ABDICATION FOR KAISER WILHELM

Paris.—The abdication of the German Emperor is forecast by the former German magistrate who wrote the celebrated book, "J'Accuse," in an interview published in Oude. He says: "The Kaiser is obsessed with the thought that he is responsible for the war, a thought which poisons his whole existence. He feels that he is menaced by the three enemies at home, without counting those abroad: First is the Crown Prince, the real author of the war; second, is the junker pan-Germanist—you can not imagine the smouldering hatred of the Emperor for those whom he believes to be the maniacs who are driving him into an abyss; third, are the people, not the Socialist party, but the people who are starving and who he feels are growing in number and rising little by little against those who organized the war."

Opposed to Break.
"In particular he was personally opposed to a break with President Wilson, but he was forced to consent. Documents will be published one day which will prove that secretly he did everything not to bring America down upon him and that he considers that the rupture was an irreparable mistake. The failure of the submarine war will soon show that he was right but it will be too late."

He wants to continue popular at any price and that is why he spoke the first word of peace. The people were grateful for it, but the submarine war came and spoiled everything.

Suffers in Pride.
"It is hard to realize how the Emperor, who enjoyed a popularity unexampled in our epoch, suffers in his pride. He alone perhaps in Germany knows the whole truth, since he alone has in his possession the elements for forming a judgment in the situation as a whole."

"Once he tried to initiate peace negotiations and failed. To try again would be to admit and proclaim to the world, but above all to the German people, which he fears most, Germany's real situation. If the Allies solemnly declared, as they did with Napoleon in 1815, that they would refuse to treat for peace with the Hohenzollern it would be a knockout blow. Our German people, who still believe in him would abandon him, for peace at any price will soon be the unanimous and hidden thought of tortured Germany."

Led by Crown Prince.
"What recourse is left to him but a dramatic abdication in order to retain the sympathies of the German people and save the political future of Prussia. He will say: 'I sacrifice myself to make peace. Without me, those only are responsible who desired a savage war and the complete isolation of Germany; those who took at the beginning my son as their party leader and forced me to mobilize, a measure I hesitated to take.'"

Keep up the Food Supply and Help Make Victory Sure

OUR soldiers must be fed; the people at home must be fed. And—in spite of Germany's murderous campaign to cut off the Allies' Food supply, by sinking every ship on the High Seas—an ample and unflinching flow of food to England and France must be maintained.

"I AM assured that my people will respond to every call necessary to the success of our cause—with the same indomitable ardour and devotion that have filled me with pride and gratitude since the war began."
