Returned Soldier Prospectors to be Grubstaked Free

Fifty Men to be Sent Out by Provincial Government; Expenses Returnable Only if Mine Worked or Sold

Arrangements are being made by the Provincial Government to send out fifty returned soldier prospectors this summer, paying their expenses but giving them all the return from what they find. The fifty men are being chosen from the different mining districts, according to population. While because of her comparatively small population Prince Rupert will send out only two men, most of the men sent from Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria will come to this district, so that it stands to benefit more than any other part of the country. Should there be more prospectors here than can be sent, they will apply through either of the other districts.

The men will go out in twos, one being an experienced man and the other a man anxious to learn.
