Commit Grammars To Bonfire.

What is this? "English grammar as it is now taught should be dropped entirely from our schools. A child need never parse nor diagram an English sentence, conjugate an English verb, nor declinate an English noun. Indeed it would do little harm if all the English grammars adapted for use in elementary schools were to be committed to a bonfire."

And so this article in The North American Review continues to denounce English grammar as an unscientific, illogical inflexible dictum which forces children to decline nouns in cases which do not exist, to conjugate verbs in tenses, moods and voices which long since have ceased to be, and to make adjectives agree with nouns when agreement is neither necessary nor possible. The writer is Mr. Walter Guest Kellogg, an Ogdenburg lawyer, a graduate of Columbia University, where he was senior poet of his class, and a member of the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York. And he is not alone in his views, for he says: "In New York State the truth was seen years ago, but in practise it has been only half realized. Much less time is now spent on English grammar, but we are still devoting too much daylight to it. The syllabus prepared by the Department of Education recommends that no formal grammar be taught until the sixth grade is attained, but one wonders why it is still permitted to be taught at all."

Who Will Teach The Teacher?

English grammar is violated unconsciously with distressing frequency, but no such deliberate attack upon it has been heard since the days of Jack Cade, the English rebel, who thus denounced the Lord Say: "Thou has most traitorously corrupted the youth of the realm in erecting a Grammar School. It will be proved to thy face that thou hast men about thee that usually talk of a noun and a verb and such abominable words as no Christian ear can endure to hear." A few years previously one of the prelates at the Council of Constance objected to the grammar of Sigismund I, who retorted; "I am the Roman Emperor, and I am above grammar." But we are not all Roman Emperors, and the followers of Jack Cade seems to be increasing. Bad English is continually offending not only on the streets and in other places, but in advertisements, prospectuses, and similar business publications. Mr. Kellogg admits that "cultural and commercial opportunity" depends in great part upon one's knowledge of his mother tongue, and that first and foremost the work of the school is to be centred upon attaining a correct use of idiomatic English. "The teacher," he says, "is the crux of the problem," but who will teach the teacher if grammars are committed to a bonfire? — Toronto Globe.

I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia—had suffered for years; and nothing I took did me any good. I read about 'Fruit-a-lives' and tried them. After taking a few boxes, of this wonderful medicine made from fruit juices, I am now entirely well." Madame ROSINA FOISIZ. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

The Man in the Moon SAYS--

THAT much could be added to the appearance of the Salt Lakes if some of the girls would get off the beach and into the water.

THAT there aren't very many of them who learn to swim standing around and people soon get tired of looking at them.

THAT hotel accommodation was somewhat crowded at Tugwell Island Saturday night.

THAT there must be a great deal of wreckage over on Ireland, in fact the whole island must be pretty well wrecked.

THAT the Irish and the Mexicans have a good deal in common and that the chief thing is fighting.

THAT no matter who loses the Presidential race Ohio wins.

THAT the next president of the United States is sure to be a newspaper man.

THAT Canada still appears to be the "wet hope" of the bibulous Americans.

THAT the name of Poland's new premier is Grabski, but it would perhaps be better were it Joldski.

THAT railroad affairs around Prince Rupert will no doubt be greatly improved after Hon. Dr. Reid has visited here.

THAT we need a daily train service and, no doubt, will get it now.

SIX HUNDRED TONS OF SCOTCH LIQUOR

Within the next few days many Vancouver householders will have the well-known grand and glorious feeling as they lock the cellar door. The reason lies in the advent of the Harrison direct liner Crown of Toledo, which arrived Friday from the United Kingdom. The big freighter was coaling at Nanaimo yesterday. The Crown of Toledo brings 800 tons of freight and 75 per cent of it is wet goods—cases and cases and tons upon tons of liquor for thirsty-British Columbia. Most of it was loaded at Glasgow and consists of the famed essence of the grains of that land. Prominent on the Toledo's manifest are several shipments of settlers' effects, the goods and chattels of folk who have come to British Columbia during the past year. The local offices of Halfour, Guthrie & Co., coast agents for the line, expect word of the departure from Liverpool of the steamer Crown of Galicia. She was due to clear for the Pacific coast on July 5 and is expected toward the end of August.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

July 20, 1910. C. L. Monroe has severed his connection with the Grand Trunk freight department and has entered into partnership with H. B. Rochester, steamboat agent and general broker.

The whole council will go out tomorrow morning by boat to inspect the city water power question. A visit will be made to the Eestall River and Wolfe Creek.

The Knights of Pythias hall in the Heigerson Block has now been completed and Geo. D. Tite is placing the furniture in position today.

Rapid progress is being made in the installation of the fire alarm system. Sixteen phones have been put in use already.

The funeral was held this morning of T. J. Thornhill from the Church of England. After the services the remains were taken to Garden Island cemetery for interment.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON MAY CHANGE SKIPPER

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Captain Burton remains skipper of the Shamrock in Tuesday's race despite the dissatisfaction of Sir Thomas Lipton with his generalship. It is possible that Commodore Jarvis of Toronto may succeed him.
