POULTRY MUSTARD
 During the moulting period the egg production is practically nil. Why not change this condition? ONE TEASPOONFUL of BORDEN'S POULTRY MUSTARD fed daily to each six birds will do this for you by shortening the moulting period, which means that the birds will commence laying much earlier than otherwise.

WINNIPEG IS PROTESTING

Urges Suspension of Freight Rates Order Until Rehearing by Board.

An appeal for suspension of the freight rate increases, granted by the board of railway commissioners pending the rehearing of the applications, was made to Premier Arthur Meighen by the Winnipeg Board of Trade on behalf of all western boards of trade. This action was taken after 12 days had elapsed without any definite action being taken by the railway commission on the request of the Board of Trade that the rates be suspended.

The following telegram was sent to Premier Meighen: "Now over two weeks since the cabinet decided that the railway commissioners had proceeded on an entirely wrong principle on railway application for larger earnings and directed that the matter be considered anew on proper principles by the board. Immediately after the matter was remitted to the board, application was made to them for a suspension of the rates, pending such rehearing. Twelve days have elapsed since the application, but although more than a quorum of board is in Ottawa, they state that they have not yet received instructions from the chief commissioner as to action he wishes taken on application, and they will do nothing without such instructions."

"They say chief commissioner is somewhere in the west, and they have forwarded to him by wire all communications relative to the application. There seems to be no likelihood of early hearing by the board. We therefore appeal to the governor-in-council for a suspension of the rates pending rehearing and determination on proper principles as to what increases, if any, are necessary to make rates just and reasonable."

The telegram was signed by W. E. Milner, managing secretary of the Board of Trade.

An Alaskan buck deer reached Seattle alive on the steamer City of Seattle last Sunday, the present of Mayor J. G. Grant, of Wrangell, to the city of Seattle. The animal was captured last June by Captain Owens of the mail boat Princess Pat.

The Prince George did not get away until 9 o'clock this morning, having waited the arrival of the Prince Albert from Masset Inlet. The latter boat had a number of loggers from the north of Graham Island who continued south on the George. The Albert also took on 2,000 cases of salmon at the new Watin River cannery.

The car shortage at Prince Rupert, it is claimed, has restored for the time being to Seattle the conditions that prevailed six or seven years ago when all the half-but schooners used to make that port. Many of the larger schooners are now going there direct instead of calling here. The long trip with the high costs of gasoline and distillate, however, puts a crimp in the profits. Whenever the car shortage is remedied this business will quickly be restored to Prince Rupert.

1000 Eggs in Every Hen

New System of Poultry Keeping — Get a Dozen Eggs — Famous Poultryman TELLS HOW

"The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the life of a hen was too short," says Henry Trafford, International Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly eighteen years Editor of Poultry Success.
 The average pullet lays 100 eggs. If kept the second year, she may lay 400 more. If she goes to the market, yet it has been scientifically established that every pullet is born or hatched with over one thousand multiple egg follicles in her system—and will lay them on a highly profitable basis over a period of four to six years, if given proper care.
 How to work to get 1,000 eggs from every hen, how to get pullets laying early; how to make the old hens lay like pullets; how to keep up heavy egg production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple egg production; make sickly hens bustle; $5.00 profit from every hen in six winter months. These and many other money making poultry secrets are contained in Mr. Trafford's "1,000 EGG HEN" system of poultry raising, one copy free to those who send for it. Write to Henry Trafford, Suite 2023, Type Bldg., Bury Building, N. Y., and a free copy of "THE 1,000 EGG HEN" will be sent by return mail.
