It's An Old Story

THE following letter by a Daily News reader discusses a topical subject of interest to Prince Rupert citizens. Because of its timeliness, it is featured in this column as one representative opinion of the public:

"The Daily News-

Erring Pedestrian

"As a pedestrian, I am in full sympathy with the brow-beaten motorist of Prince Rupert. In last evening's paper headlines shouted: 'Speed Limit Debate Looms for Traffic Men." Discussion as to whether, the speed limit is to be reduced to 20 miles an hour is a waste of council time. "The reason stated for reducing the speed limit is ridiculous. What on earth are the Gyros, Kinsmen and various other clubs spending money on parks for? "No doubt, for the poor motorist who goes broke pay-

"Let's show a little sense and check up on the 'lilywhite' pedestrians. The taxpayers paid hard-earned money to have safety crossings painted at the busy intersections which perhaps 40 per cent of the public use (if it happens to be convenient at the time).

"Let's lay off the motorist for a while and begin handing out little blue slips to the walking public. "Thank you for this space in your newspaper. One of many errnig pedestrians,

"Dave Knowles."

American Capital in Canada

IS AMERICAN capital running too much of Canada's business? This is a question which many are asking with increasing concern in the face of growing U.S. investments in this country which are now valued at more than seven billion dollars.

Those who are alarmed by the inrush of American money observe it is so concentrated in some sectors that, for example, three-quarters of our base metals manufacturing and two-thirds of our oil industry are controlled from the U.S.A.

In the current issue of Saturday Night magazine the American financial invasion is examined and the conclusion is reached that, when the expanding Canadian economy as a whole is taken into account, the situation is not so threatening as it seems at first glance. Indeed, Canadians now control more of their own country's business than they did before the war.

In 1939 the portion of Canadian business under foreign control was 38 per cent. By the end of 1951 the figure was reduced to 32 per cent.

Most of the reduction was due to the large-scale repatriation of British-held stock. Although the percentage increase of American holdings in Canadian industry offset this to some extent, this has only gone from 22 per cent in 1939 to 25 per cent in 1951.

To have one-quarter of our business in American hands may still strike many in this country as cause for alarm Yet the fact must be faced that Canadians would have been unwilling, or unable, to gamble the large sums necessary for some of the major developments now underway.

So before we endeavor to say whether Americans are running more than their reasonable share of our business, we must answer this question: should we let it be done by American capital, or not have it done at all?

Primary cause of race prejudices is ignorance. We fear what we do not know and distrust what we do not understand. Lack of conformity to group standards, differences in thought, expressions and customs, all foster suspicion and hatred.

No author that I have ever discovered seems to me to write without bias of the times of Charles the First. But one thing does emerge out of this book which seems to me to have a great lesson and a great hope for our own times.

'Ghost Writer' of Presidential Letters Resigns After 17 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)-William D. (Bill) Hassett, chief "ghost writer" of presidential letters for 17 years, resigned his post as a White House sccretary yesterday.

Hassett, 71, wrote more than 300,000 letters over the signature of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and President Truman.

Intimates said the secretary had the knack of writing "no" so engagingly it virtually turned disappointment into happiness. He is one of the last figures of the early "New Deal" regime, having joined Roosevelt as an assistant White House press secretary in 1935 after a lengthy career as a newspaper man.

Prisoners of war in Korea are reported to be receiving ten ciggarettes daily. That's about eight more than some, enjoying liberty in Canada, smoke.

The protests in Vancouver over reducing the number of pigeons in that city are increasing. There is also bird life in and around Prince Rupert—sea gulls, ravens, fish eagles and crows. While we love winged creatures, it is a lasting sorrow to realize that none of those named can sing. And if they could, we wouldn't believe it.

FIELD AFFAIRS

Speaking of the haying season, it is by no means necessary to go beyond the city limits in order to cut a succulent crop. There opportunity on vacant lots and railways reserves, although decaying stumps constitute a risk to mowing machines. Hand labor would mean too much time as well as exhaustion.
