Address of the Ex-President.

The address of Hon. William H. Taft before the Canadian Club yesterday was clever. It was reasoned out, and at times it was witty. The humor cannot well be shown in any printed report. Dealing with the matter of woman's suffrage the ex-president expressed some doubt as to the immediate benefit. He feared that women might be more easily led away from the main subject or in other words would be sidetracked by politicians. To express it in another rather vulgar figure, she is likely to follow the herring drawn across the main trail.

The clever politician is an adept at drawing a herring across the trail. He tries to lure off those who do not set their minds on the main object in view. To use an apt illustration in the present prohibition campaign, he is likely to give prominence to the fact that prohibition produces blind pigs, that prohibition does not wholly prohibit, that a few people who cannot poison themselves with whiskey, do so with drugs. These are types of the herrings across the trail against which the ex-president would warn women voters.

Is Prohibitionist Against His Will.

The ex-president was against prohibition before it became law, yet he admits it has been of great benefit to the country. He says it has closed workhouses and jails. This is a wonderful admission for an anti to make. Mr. Taft is big enough, however, to bow to the will of the majority and to admit truths even if against his will.

Age of Experiment In All Matters.

This is an age of experiment. We are always looking for new things. We want to try new methods. In municipal government we are never satisfied. The Union of Municipalities is recommending radical changes in municipal laws. This is done every year and almost every year some of the cities ask for changes in their private charters. We are always tinkering and seldom make much improvement.

The Provincial Government is now asked to take charge of all high schools, and of course that means the financing of them. It is an attempt to get the Provincial Government to take over some of the burdens from the city. Some years ago the voters of this province gave a mandate to a Government to burden them with an immense railway debt, which has to be paid. As a result the Government finds it has to impose taxes. It has to raise an immense amount of revenue and is in a worse plight than any municipality. Yet there are continuous and determined attempts on the part of municipalities to take some of the income from the Provincial Governments and to slough off on them some of the burdens.

There are doubtless good reasons why the Provincial Government should take over the high schools and there are also powerful reasons why there should be local control. The tendency of the day is against centralization.

We have always believed the hospitals should be run as provincial institutions, but whether the present is the time to make the change or not, there is doubt. A poor man should not have to pay hospital fees for it is bad enough for him to stop earning and perhaps lose his position as well as paying a doctor without having to pay for the use of the hospital. It may be all right for a single man, but for a married man a spell of illness for himself or family is tragedy.

TORTURED BY TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Suffered Three Years Until She Tried "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

DAME PETER LAMARRE

Pointe St. Pierre, P. Q.

"I think it my duty to tell you how much your medicine has done for me. I suffered for three years with terrible Eczema. I consulted several doctors and they did not do me any good.

Then, I used one box of 'Sootha-Salva' and two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and my hands are now clear. The pain is gone and there has been no return. I think it is a marvelous cure because no other medicine did me any good and I tried all the remedies I ever heard of, without benefit until I used 'Sootha-Salva' and 'Fruit-a-tives'.

'Fruit-a-tives' cooled the blood and removed the cause of the disease, and 'Sootha-Salva' completed the cure."

Low, 5:18 a.m., 5 feet.

17:50 p.m., 5 feet.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

NAVIGABLE WATERS PROTECTION ACT.

R. S.C. CHAP. 115.

MARITIME FISHERIES LIMITED of the Province of British Columbia hereby gives notice that it has, under section 7 of the said Act, deposited with the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa, and in the office of the District Registrar of the Land Registry District of Prince Rupert at Prince Rupert a description of the site and the plans of wharf, salmon cannery and cold storage plant proposed to be built in the Skeena River at Haysport, British Columbia, in front of District Lot 4445, Range 5, Coast District, British Columbia.

AND TAKE NOTICE that after the expiration of one month from the date of the first publication of this notice Maritime Fisheries Limited will under section 7 of the said Act, apply to the Minister of Public Works at his office in the city of Ottawa, for approval of the said site and plans, and for leave to construct the said wharf, salmon cannery and cold storage plant.

DATED at Prince Rupert, B.C. this 24th day of September, A.D. 1920.

MARITIME FISHERIES LIMITED.

By Messrs. Patmore & Fulton, solicitors.

NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that all persons holding Crown Lands or Lots in Townsite subdivisions under agreement for sale from whom the purchase money on such lands or Townsites is remaining unpaid are required to make payment, within six months from the date of this notice, either of the full amount due, together with interest thereon, if any be due, or a substantial proportion of such amount, which must at least cover the full interest due to date, together with evidence that all taxes, whether Municipal or Provincial, have been paid, failing which the agreement for sale will be cancelled, as provided by section 70 of the "Land Act," Chapter 129, Revised Statutes of 1911.

WAR WAS WORTH WHILE IN SPIKE OF THE LOSSES. SAYS W. H. TAFT

Continued From Page One.

The enfranchising of women would reduce the average of governmental capacity, but they would be trained so that in the end there would be no reduction. He had talked to men living in the States where women were enfranchised and they said that it made no difference. Generally the wives voted the way their husbands and the daughters with their parents. It did not make a radical change in the results. The difficulty that they might encounter was in rousing women to broad views and prevent the concentration on emotional points without seeing the whole issue.

Prohibition Good

The war had been responsible in the United States for the passing of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution. While some of them did not like prohibition they were in for it and it would take the vote of 36 states to change back. In the outset the effect has been good in getting rid of the saloons and destroying the necessity of workhouses and institutions for inebriates who did not keep within the ordinances. The law, however, would have to stand the test of time.

Many were of opinion, he said, that prohibition was a mistake, but it had come and while there were those who were growling, protesting and damning it as a foolish notion, it was on the statute books. He was a democrat with a small "d" and as such he must play the game according to rule. The law was inevitable and they must accept it. It was easy to be a democrat when with the majority, but the real test was to bow to the will of the majority. We were not always in the minority, but some of us have had a large experience. (Laughter).

Mr. Taft spoke of the bright young lives that had been sacrificed, millions of them. The present generation would pass before the loss could be made up.

There was also the loss of wealth to the world which it would take fifty years to make up. "Think of the sweat and agony of labor energy and devotion gone up in smoke. It means production, saving, and struggle for half a century."

Effort to Reorganize.

Another result of the war was the effort to reorganize society and bring the bottom to the top by plundering and division. That was a bad result of the war. The war was a good thing, however, in that it had shaken up and interested people to end abuses under the social system. It strengthened democracy with the result that abuses were not the same as before. They must not, however, make war the basis for the reversal of sound principles which had brought about the present civilization. To change this would be impossible and utterly destructive of future progress. It was fortunate for people here, although unfortunate for that country, that the experiment had been tried out in Russia and they had seen its failure. The motive of gain made men work, the reward of capitalistic society made for world progress. War had held up to the world the dross of mere material gain and excited the supremacy of self-sacrifice.

Action and Reaction.

The immediate reaction of war had been extravagance. That was human nature. There was bound to be a recurrence of weakness and vanity, but this was only temporary. The lessons would not be lost. Progress was a matter of action and reaction. "Let us pray that in the reaction we may not go so far as in the action."

Referring to the work of Canada the speaker said her loyalty to an ideal had given her a standing as an independent nation in the world. The burden of debt she had incurred would soon be paid, for the country was young and energetic. The experience of Canada would be somewhat similar to that of the United States following the civil war. The thing to do was to give nature a chance to heal the wounds and keep the government from interfering. The law of self-preservation was as strong in the nation as in the individual. With courage and energy, intelligence and high ideals the country would achieve great things.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Taft was moved by L. W. Patmore and seconded by Fred Stock and carried with enthusiasm.
