An interesting little discussion was heard on the arrival of Sunday's train. One elderly lady showed no signs of leaving the train, after the other passengers had got out. The porter went to her and said: "We're here, ma'am." "I'm going right through," returned the passenger. "The train doesn't go any further," replied the porter. "But I'm booked right through to the terminus," protested the lady. "This is the terminus," was the reply. "The terminus!" incredulously repeated the lady. "Then where's the depot?"

WESTHOLME THEATRE

"The Vampire," the great tragedy shown at the Westholme Theatre last night will again be displayed this evening. This is one of the best dramas of its kind that has ever come to the city. Mademoiselle Petrova, the star actress, is at her best and every moment from start to finish is tense with suppressed excitement. The story deals with the alluring charms of a woman, and all that arises therefrom. Men lose their heads over her. Different kind of men, but finally, she finds one man whom she thinks more of. The finish is thrilling and tragic. Madlle. Petrova attains to a very high level of acting in this play and fully justifies her great reputation. To balance the program, a splendid comedy will also be given.
