JOAN OF ARC

At the Westholme Theatre tomorrow night there will be shown the great masterpiece of photo-plays, entitled "Joan the Woman." This play is based upon the story of Joan of Arc, commonly known among her people as La Pucelle. Of all the stories in history, there is hardly one which is more pathetic. France, the beautiful, was overrun at that time by the English troops. The disunion among the French themselves had led to their defeat time and again until they got the habit of being defeated on the field. They expected nothing else. Joan, the Maid of Orleans, raised the drooping spirits of her compatriots, and from defeat in battle with their oppressors led them to victory. Her capture by her enemies, and her mockery of a trial, which lasted many days are vividly portrayed in these films. The bench of bishops which tried her could not in reason find her guilty of any of the charges they brought against her, but as she was dangerous to the hold of England on France, she had to be got out of the way. They burnt her at the stake. By her death, her fame spread abroad and was the means of uniting all France again and imbuing them with the spirit of victory.

This great play is in eleven acts and is one of the finest that has ever been staged.

Tonight the play to be shown is "Lost and Won," which is a fine one of its kind. Marie Doro is the star, and she has won for herself fame among the patrons of the movies. There will also be a Topical Budget.

When you think of shoes, think of Wallace's.
