GREAT TREASON TRIAL IN ROME

Milan, July 31.—A court-martial for high treason against Monsignor Rodolfo von Gerlach (ex-officer of the Bavarian army and private Chamberlain to the Pope) and his five spy accomplices has terminated in Rome after 56 sessions of the court, in the condemnation of all those implicated. Gerlach, who on scenting imminent arrest had fled from the Vatican to Switzerland, was sentenced to perpetual confinement. Mario Pomarici, a Neapolitan and Gerlach's chief agent, was sentenced to be shot through the back. Archive Valente Mawyer, hailing from Archangel, likewise received a life sentence. Francesco Raspagliesi, an infantry trooper, will serve five years, while Garcia Vitaliani, editor and proprietor of the clerical illustrated weekly, Il Bastone, and Giuseppe Ambrogetti, traveller for a Roman ecclesiastical art firm, were each condemned to three years' imprisonment. All the accused were found guilty of trafficking with the enemy and transmitting secrets of the military defecbe to the Austro-German espionage centre at Lucerne, with which they were in close and constant connection. Even the Vatican diplomatic valise had been prostituted for Italy's undoing by the infamous Gerlach, who had abused for these ends the special favor and confidence which he enjoyed at the Papal Court.

Gerlach paid a bribe of £4500 to Vitaliani for the support of his paper against Italian interests, and other sums exceeding £4000 were paid to the Roman political daily "La Vittoria" on behalf of Germany. Though all Gerlach's tools posed as journalists, it should be mentioned that every one of them had been refused admission to any recognized Italian press syndicate.

Behind Closed Doors. The trial was conducted with closed doors. Many startling facts about this sordid intrigue elicited during its course will be available for publication only after the war is over. The public, however, was admitted to the reading of the sentence, which occupied upwards of two hours. Italian law requires that even in trials of this nature the sentence should embody a minute exposition of the incriminating evidence and the manner in which the facts were brought to light. Since the textual reproduction of the sentence is forbidden in the public press, it must suffice to say that the narrative was such as to cause thrills of horror amongst those present in the crowded court and murmurs of indignation at the close broke out into fierce howls of vituperation against the condemned, who hid their faces from the public gaze.

SOLDIERS' MEALS

On the average every Canadian family wastes enough to feed a soldier. Such is the declaration of Miss B. M. Philip of Macdonald College, who urges every Canadian woman, as a necessary war measure, to at once examine the details of her household expenditure. She says:—"The average Canadian household is not organized with a view to the greatest measure of efficiency. The possibilities in the way of economies are enormous. It has been calculated that on the average each Canadian family wastes enough to feed a soldier! The most satisfactory economies that may be effected are in small things. They involve no sacrifices or even discomforts. On the contrary, they promote orderly habits, simplify routine and contribute materially to domestic happiness."

More than this, such economies mean saving. National saving is essential to victory. The Government needs every dollar it can secure for war purposes. Practise economy and invest your money in War Savings Certificates.
