IN ASIA

The continued success of the forces of General Maude in the operations of the Anglo-Indian forces in Mesopotamia are continuing. From the latest dispatches received from this theatre of the war, there now seems to be little standing in the way of the British troops in their march to Mosul. This important Eastern city is the terminus at present of the famous projected Berlin to Baghdad railway, which was the dream of the Kaiser's. From Mosul, the railway line runs almost due east to Aleppo, which possibly is the most important Turkish city east of Constantinople still in the hands of the Turks. The British forces are already well to the north of the armies operating in Palestine and the threatening of Aleppo by either General Maude from Mesopotamia, or by General Allenby in Palestine, would be a serious menace either of the Turkish forces east or south of that point.

Whatever may happen to Germany or Austria-Hungary as the outcome of the peace negotiations, when they do materialize—which may possibly take place some day—there seems to be little doubt that the unspeakable Turk will no longer be permitted to misrule over any other subject nations. With the greatest and the richest parts of his provinces gone, and no place left for him in Europe, the Turkish empire will be a thing of the past. Which is one thing that will cause few regrets in almost any other country.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER THE SAVIOR OF QUEBEC

revolution" spoken of by Sir Chas. Hibbert Tupper. Had Laurier adopted any other course than that these sixty-five Quebec seats, which Sir Hibbert so greatly fears, would have been turned over in their entirety to Bourassa and Lavergne, and the next Parliament instead of having a French-Canadian force under a high-minded, moderate, patriotic French leader, would have had a Bourassa element that might easily have brought about a revolution not only in Quebec, but probably within the Canadian Parliament.

But not for a moment did Sir Wilfrid lose his hold upon his Quebec followers, though he has lost the support of many of his old-time English-speaking colleagues, every one of whom, while they may differ with his policy, at the same time bear testimony to the personal patriotism and lofty character of the leader from whom they have parted.

And we believe that every Canadian has reason to feel grateful to Sir Wilfrid for the part he has played. Any other course than that which he took would have meant his passing from a political field in which just such a man as he is sorely needed today, and at the same time it would have meant that the entire province of Quebec would have been thrown into the Nationalist fold, and, under the fiery and irrational leadership of Bourassa and Lavergne, it would ere this have become a hotbed of disorder and defiance of the law.

The result today is the very reverse, however. While Sir Wilfrid and his followers in Parliament opposed the Military Service Act on the ground that, a far-reaching principle being involved through the most drastic piece of legislation ever placed on the Canadian statute books, a vote of the people should have been taken before it went into force, it is nevertheless a fact that not a single one of Sir Wilfrid's responsible Quebec followers have offered an unfair or irrational criticism of it, and no attempt has been made by his party to inflame the people of his province against it. Virtually all disorderly hostility has come from the ranks of Bourassa and his Nationalistic group—the same group that have opposed Laurier for the past ten years and helped, in 1911, to place in power Sir Robert Borden.

Instead of the rioting and disorder expected in Quebec following the passage of the Act, we have today a quiet and order that is, to say the least, as surprising as it is welcome to a large section of the loyal Canadian people who a few months ago had their misgivings as to the outcome. This condition of affairs is undoubtedly due, in a very large measure, to the personal influence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who, through the confidence reposed in him by his French-Canadian compatriots, has been able to hold the impulsive ones in check and has brought out of a threatened chaos an orderliness and a respect for the law that, on the part of the French-Canadians, could not have been conceived by English-speaking people in these western provinces three months ago.

Not only has the aged French leader refused to listen to the demands of some of his followers from Quebec that the Military Service Act be repealed if he is returned to power, but he has counseled the utmost loyalty to the government of Canada in the words: "Obey the Military Service Law." And that his people are obeying that law is the most outstanding tribute that any Canadian can have today as to his worth to his country at this critical time.

Whether or not we agree with either the past or the present policies of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, no well-wisher of Canada can gainsay his value to this Dominion at a moment when anything might have happened had it not been for his great influence over his own people, who have since demonstrated—possibly to the disappointment of some few extremists in Eastern Canada who have done their utmost to spread dissension in Quebec—their loyalty to their country and their respect for the law of the land.

The government of Sir Robert Borden having forbidden certain criticism of the Military Service Act, the next step should be, as Sir Thomas Shaughnessy suggests, to prevent "frothy jingoists" from attempting to stir up trouble in the country by unfair or mischievous references to any one section of it, such as is the habit of some of our Canadian patriots (?) when speaking about Quebec and Laurier. If there is one thing more than another that

CLEANSE THE LARGE INTESTINE

Present War Cry of Advanced Physicians.

Some of the leading surgeons of the world have gone so far recently as to remove part of the Large Intestine in cases so serious as that of Tuberculosis and restored the patient to perfect health by so doing.

The New York American has recently said:

"During Constipation the poisons in the Large Intestine often become so great as to form a serious menace to health and even to life. Through the walls of the Intestine they enter the blood and consume the healthy blood cells, impoverishing the blood, and if this process is continued long enough an acute poisoning is produced."

It is impossible under our present-day mode of living for the Intestine to rid itself of all waste, and it is easily proven that there is an accumulation, no matter how regular we are.

Drugs, if taken regularly, form a habit, but Internal Bathing by means of the "J. B. L. Cascade" cleanses the Lower Intestine its entire length with pure warm water and makes it clean, sweet and healthy.

At the same time it regulates the system and makes one feel that every function is working smoothly and naturally—and, indeed, this is so.

This letter will convey a message of good cheer to many:

Welland, Ontario.

Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell,

163 College Street, Toronto, Ont.:

Dear Sir,—We heartily endorse the J. B. L. Cascade, as we find in our work that a loaded colon means a poisoned system, which, in turn, means ligamentous contraction of the spinal muscles, against which our work is directed.

Anything helping us in gaining relaxation we consider a boon, both to ourselves and our patients.

Most sincerely,
Drs. Hoxley and Garland.

Over five hundred thousand are now enthusiastic users of the "J. B. L. Cascade," which is now being shown and explained at Cyril B. Orme's Drug Store, cor. 3rd Avenue and 6th St., Prince Rupert.

Ask or write now, while you think of it, to Chas. A. Tyrrell, M.D., 163 College Street Toronto, for free and interesting booklet, "Why Man of Today is Only 50 Per Cent. Efficient."

OBHEY THE LAW!

Report at once for Service or Claim Exemption

Under the Military Service Act, all men in Class One are soldiers today, absent with leave and without pay. Failure to obey the law amounts to DESERTION and can be punished as such.

Class One includes bachelors and widowers without children (not otherwise excepted) who were 20 years old on the 13th October, 1917, and whose 34th birthday did not occur before January 1st, 1917.

DO IT TODAY!

The rush in the last few days may be such that in the hurry and stress a number of men may fail to comply with the requirements under the Act. That will not be recognized as an excuse, as every man is being given ample time to report for service, or claim exemption.

GO TO YOUR POST OFFICE TODAY and ask for a form for reporting for service or for claiming exemption. Understand, it is a matter of LAW that all the men in Class One must report for service or claim exemption not later than November 10th, 1917.

Issued by the Military Service Council.
