FIRST PRINCIPLES

One of the most eminent thinkers of the last hundred years wrote a book entitled "First Principles." That man was Herbert Spencer. In his writing he insisted upon "first things first." That is one of the principles governing our every day action, and which is responsible for success. Failure to have regard to this dictum means failure. And the failure of the Borden Government is the reason why the people of Canada are up in arms against them, from one ocean to the other.

The whole policy of the Borden Government since it took office has been actuated by a wrong motive. Elected as the representatives of the people, it was their duty that such legislation should be dealt with as was for the good of the people as a whole. Instead of this the Borden Government have taken as their first principle to do everything for the benefit of their own party particularly and to retain office, so that they could go on misgoverning the people for their own ends.

Apart from the manner in which they were elected, which was not particularly creditable, the first thing they did when they took office was to fire 12,000 civil servants and appoint 25,000 of their own partisans to take their places. Since the war began, public affairs have been managed in the interests of the friends of the Borden Government, quite irrespective of the good of the whole people. Milking the public treasury for their friends was the chief pastime of the Borden Government. The graft scandals which came to light are sufficient to show this. War supplies of every kind offered an opening for graft, which was well and truly taken advantage of. The buccaneering career of the Borden Government wound up with the C. N. R. steal of as much as $10,000,000. Truly, they were no pikers in their own interests.

But when we regard the interests of Canada, well, that's another story. The Borden government has consistently refused to place Canada upon a war basis. So far as the interests of Canada are concerned, their piking is shown with the Military Service Act. It is a half measure. It is not conscription. It is only part conscription. The true application of the principle of conscription would take first things first. With the proper conscription of the industries of Canada, the Dominion would be in far better shape to support the boys in the trenches. But this might effect the profits of the war profiteers. Therefore the Borden Government was not permitted to do it. That had to be left for Laurier—if he got into power, which the profiteers and the "interests" are doing all in their power to prevent. Their cry is, appeal to the other fellow's patriotism, and if he's wise to our game, take him anyway. But leave our profits alone. And the Borden Government have lived up to their instructions.

Instead of nationalizing her essential war and other industries, the Borden Government has given free reign to the profiteer to get all he can, while the getting's good. And with these profits invested in the Victory Loan, they are free from all taxation. Sir Thomas White is a good finance minister—for the profiteer.

Had the people of Canada had a square deal from the Borden Government, there would have been no necessity for the introduction of the Military Service Act. Knowing that things were going on all right for their dependents left at home, there would have been no lack of recruits. Had recruiting been handled in Quebec with common sense in the interests of Canada, Quebec would have done her share. But instead the Borden Government permitted Bourassa and Lavergne to talk sedition among their countrymen without any reprimand. Instead of stimulating that "esprit de corps" among the French-Canadian battalions which were formed and keeping them as a unit under their own officers, they were sent to the Bermudas and split up subsequently. They even appointed an English general as D. O. C. in Quebec, who could not speak French. The facts lead to the conclusion that the Borden Government did not want Quebec to make too good a showing, so that an election issue as the Military Service Bill, could be more easily raised. Their past record they hoped would be forgotten amidst their extreme protestations of loyalty.

It has not worked, though. The people of Canada will put first things first, and Borden nowhere.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

With eight Liberals admitted into a Cabinet consisting of 22, Sir Robert Borden calls his a Union Government. The people don't believe him, for there have been 228 straight Liberals nominated to fight his candidates.

That the Borden Government never intended to have the military Service Act apply to Quebec is patent by the Deputy Speaker's letter to his constituents. He informed them that instructions had been given that farmers' sons and those engaged in factories would be exempted. The Borden Government can evidently instruct the tribunals, which are supposed to be absolutely impartial. While for consumption by the English-speaking people of Canada, the Hon. Mr. Crothers declares that the Military Service Act was introduced to make Quebec do her duty. Who is to be believed?

When enthusiasm was running high in Canada and the recruits were pouring in, Sir Sam Hughes received instructions to let up on recruiting. Winning the war was evidently not such a great necessity then as now, in the eyes of the Borden Government.

The Imperial Munitions Board is prepared to utilize 30,000,000 feet of clear spruce per month. Prince Rupert is the centre of the spruce country, and important developments may be looked for in the immediate future. Logging operations to produce this quantity will require a great number of men, donkey engines and wire cable and all three of these requirements are scarce. With clear spruce at present prices, this will mean the expenditure of a great amount of money, the most of which will have to be paid in wages and for materials.

BE CLEAN INTERNALLY

Over 500,000 People Are Now Doing So.

For many years physicians have agreed that 95 per cent. of human ills was caused by accumulated waste in the Lower Intestine; that in our present way of living Nature could not remove all this waste without assistance, no matter how regular we might be; and that the poisons from this waste circulated through the blood pulled us away down below par and were responsible for many diseases of a serious nature.

During this time the "J. B. L. Cascade" for Internal Bathing has, because of her recommendation and those of us who have been steadily growing in favor.

Recently, however, the standard work, which has been covering the country that great surgeons and specialists have been operating on the Lower Intestine in such serious diseases as Tuberculosis, and Rheumatism as Nervous Debility and Rheumatism to this cause, also saying that these poisons are favorable to the development of Cancer and Tuberculosis (as stated in a recent article in The New York Times), has caused people to become thoroughly awake to the importance of keeping the Lower Intestine free from all poisonous waste matter, and over 500,000 are now using Internal Baths.

This enthusiastic and grateful letter is to be no means an exceptional one among the hundreds on our file:—
"703 7th Ave. South, Lethbridge, Alberta.
Dr. Tyrrell, Toronto."

"Dear Doctor Tyrrell:—After using your 'J. B. L. Cascade' for four months, I feel it my duty as a thankful patient to express my enthusiasm for the great relief it has been to me. You cannot tell how emotions as I write this letter a glow of you in your great work. Work simply fail to express my thanks for first learning of your Cascade. Previous to using it I could not go a day without a drug of some sort, and since using it I have not, on my word of honor, swallowed five cents' worth of drugs. I spent over $300.00 in the two years previous to hearing of the 'J. B. L.' Would that all the young men and women I see with their faces covered with horrid, ugly pimples would use it. They would surely get rid of them, as I did. I must stop, or I will be keeping you from your work, but I could fill ten more pages of my past condition of health, also in praise of the 'J. B. L.' May you enjoy this life to the full.

Sincerely yours,
William Devoy.

If you try the "J. B. L. Cascade" you will find yourself always bright, confident and capable—the poisonous waste makes us bilious, blue, dull and nervous. Internal Baths are Nature's own cure for Constipation—just warm water properly applied. Drugs force Nature—the "J. B. L. Cascade" gently assists her.
