THE OUTCOME

Now that the election is past, and the Union government claim for themselves a majority in Parliament, what is left for the people of the Dominion is to see just how much better off they are under the new administration than they were under the old Tory Borden Government. The one great issue claimed by the Unionists was the compulsory recruiting of Canada's manhood, under the provisions of the Military Service Act. Support for the men already in the trenches and the vigorous prosecution of the war was the thing which the Unionist party claimed they alone were able to accomplish.

To ensure their return required the expenditure of a lot of money. And it was expended, too, with a lavish hand. Every newspaper in the Dominion carried a large space advocating the blessings to flow from the return of the Borden Unionists. Nor were bill boards overlooked. The most was made also out of the King's uniform, cassocks, M. P. P.'s and K. C.'s.

And after it is all over, the electorate are somewhat justified in seeing that the pre-election promises are carried out. They may expect to see the Dominion of Canada, for the first time since the outbreak of war, being placed upon a war basis. Of course, there is often quite a big discrepancy between expectations and their realization.

What will the new government do with regard to the food controller? Will they insist that he do some controlling for a change? Will the profiteering on the food of the people and the food of our soldiers be done away with? Will the new government be strong enough to get after Sir Joseph Flavelle, which was more than the old Borden government was able to do? Will they make proper allowances to the soldiers, and to their dependents, as the country has been crying out for them to do for a long time? Will they give to the women of Canada the vote which the late Borden government unwarrant-ably took away from them before this last election? Will they see to it that a proper and graduated income tax is imposed upon those who are best able to pay such? Will the new government take proper control over the production of war material?

These are but a few of the things which it is up to any government to see after at the earliest possible moment, in order that Canada may do her full share in the war. Her full share is not only in the sending of more men to France. It also consists in supplying the Allies with food, with aeroplane lumber, with copper, and the thousand and one other articles necessary for the proper prosecution of the war. A regular supply of ships to carry supplies to the allied countries is equally necessary as sending more soldiers. If one may judge by the utterances of the representatives of Great Britain who have spoken on this subject, it might be taken as even more necessary.

If the new Union government gets down to real business and does first things first, it will be so much in its favor. But if on the other hand, it does not, and dallies along in the same dilatory fashion of the late Borden government, which did so, except in the execution of legislation affecting its own particular interests—and then it could be smart enough—the one result will be the disruption of the alleged Unionist party.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Christmas feeling is beginning to make itself evident.

Wonder what the Union government will be going to do with the Prince Rupert drydock plant? Will they be as much interested in the welfare of the city as would Laurier? Let's hope so, anyway.

Mr. Chamberlin, the late president of the G. T. P., said that the Borden government has no more jurisdiction over the drydock plant than they had over any other manufacturing institution on the B. C. coast. Will the Bor-

Man's Staff of Life is the whole wheat grain—not the white, starchy centre of the wheat—make no mistake about that—but be sure you get the whole wheat grain in a digestible form.

Shredded Wheat Biscuit contains all the tissue-building, energy-creating material in the whole wheat, steam-cooked, shredded and baked. A perfect food for the nourishment of the human body. A better balanced ration than meat, or eggs, or starchy vegetables, supplying the greatest amount of body-building nutriment at lowest cost. For breakfast with milk or cream, or for any meal with fruits. Made in Canada.

den Union government be able to take that jurisdiction over the unused resources of the Dominion which the Borden Tory government couldn't. If not, there are many people who would like to know why.

In Great Britain the food controller has forbidden the manufacture of cream during the winter months, on account of the already scarce supplies of milk. There they have a controller who controls.

With Siberia and Finland assuming independence and the Ukraine in revolt, the Bolsheviks can hardly be said to have been a brilliant success in maintaining the primary unity which made the first revolution possible.

After the war the essential supplies of foodstuffs, and for manufactures which come largely from those parts of the world controlled by the allies will be supplied to the allied countries first, and then to neutrals. The surplus, if any, may be permitted to go to Germany. This spells economic ruin.
