PROGRESS

The announcement of Mayor McClymont at the first meeting of the new council that he considers the time is now past for "sitting tight" will be appreciated by the people of Prince Rupert, inasmuch as it reflects the growing business of the province. There is a time for everything. A time for sitting tight, and a time for getting up, as the preacher might have said. There is no doubt that under the circumstances attending the past two years, there has been but little else to do but sit tight, and the tighter the better. But conditions now are very different from what they were two years ago, and it is now time for more progress to be made with the development of the city of Prince Rupert, and of the district contiguous.

Everything points to the great development of the natural resources with which this part of the province has been favored. Logging operations on a scale hitherto undreamed of may be looked for in the immediate future in the surrounding districts, of which a great quantity will pass over the line of the G. T. P. This lumber has to be seasoned, and it would save a great deal of haulage were this seasoned and culled here, before shipping. The modern system of seasoning as used in certain parts of the United States accomplishes this process in a much shorter space of time than formerly, and it is quite an industry in itself. That proposed industrial committee might very well look into this proposition when they get started.

Then there is fishing. The expansion of this trade will be an undoubted factor in the growth of this city. The Premier himself has recommended trawling for the varieties of fish which are at present practically unmarketable in large quantities. A large increase in the number of trawlers will be necessary to make up the fish supply demanded on account of the scarcity of meat.

The present price of metal will be in itself a sufficient incentive for the quickest development of the many prospects which there are in this northern country. And very many of the prospects are nearly at the proved mine stage.

Mayor McClymont has realized that there is yet something which the people can do to draw attention to this port as a centre for shipbuilding, and if no developments take place at once, that something will have to be done. Together with this there is a great deal of construction work which the G. T. P. have in their minds to do during this incoming summer.

With the expansion of these industries, and with the new mill at Seal Cove starting operations, there will be a decided increase in the population of the city, good wages and better business all round. It would seem that there is every reason to look forward to the incoming year with good grounds for believing that the faith and hope which have sustained us in the past will be rewarded.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Which would you rather do, go logging or fishing?

Mayor McClymont and Alderman Casey have both placed constructive programmes for the year 1918 before the new city council. All they have to do now is to carry their respective programmes out.

Canned whalemeat is the latest industry for British Columbia. The porpoise is equally good. Try it the first time you get a chance.

Herring are also canned in other parts of the world, and a large export business done. This is still another potential industry for this coast. The herring are here. So are the canneries.

The Hazelton Red Cross Society had a debate there last week and the subject was "Resolved that it is better to be single than married." Strange that this should be the subject of debate in a district where bachelors predominate. Some of them must be mightily well pleased with themselves.

Furniture wanted. Any quantity. Good prices paid for complete household furnishings and all kinds of tools, men's suits, coats, etc. Phone Red 243 or call on F. M. Crosby, 745 Third Ave.
