"A STORMY KNIGHT"

The Bluebird comedy-drama to be screened at the Westholme Theatre this evening is one which is full of sensations. In order to test the courage of the man she would like to marry, a damsel, who wants to marry a real man, leads him through some of the most wonderful adventures, which might scare any ordinary fellow. The modern knight follows through the most elusive and mysterious adventures, and from danger to danger, in the pursuit of the maid and it is not until he has turned the tables on her and got her to stand long enough to be married that he finds out the tests which he has undergone. There are some hair-raising scenes and some tight corners from which the hero makes his getaway in good style. The play is full of fun from beginning to end. There is also a Universal Weekly and a comedy, which makes up one of the best programmes.

Wake Up G. T. P., Pay Your Employees Promptly

We do not wish to criticize the local officials of the Grand Trunk, but it's high time that those officials at headquarters who are responsible for the delay in forwarding their employees' pay cheques were brought to task. This is a situation which affects not only the employees, but the citizens and merchants generally, and demands a remedy. The employees are dissatisfied, especially so when they are supposed to be protected against this inconvenience by B. C. Legislation, which was put into effect in October, 1917, which made it compulsory on all companies operating in B. C. to pay their employees semi-monthly. Why is not this law enforced? Possibly the G. T. P. is not the only offender. The proper remedy applied would remove the inefficiency caused by dissatisfaction.
