"BORROWED PLUMAGE"

The photoplay to be screened at the Westholme Theatre tonight is one which has received high praise from the critics. It is said to be an "excellent costume comedy, with just enough thrills," while another says that "distinctive, 'classy' production was never more pronounced; it raises the standard of entertainment 100 per cent." It is the story of a slavey who becomes a lady for a day, and the vivacious personality of Bessie Barriscale in this captivating madcap role makes an excellent attraction. Bessie Barriscale in this play makes her first appearance to a Prince Rupert audience. In other places where she has appeared she on every occasion has made a big hit, and in the play tonight, she proves herself to be a comedienne of the first declension. The public will praise this play as well as the critics, when they see it. It is one which will please even the kiddies. There is to be also a Triangle comedy, which will be an attraction in itself. Special request has been made for the orchestra to play Rossini's "Semiramide" overture.
