THE HONORABLE JOHN.

The information that the Hon. John Oliver is to be the new premier of British Columbia cannot be said to be entirely unexpected. Before leaving for the East on the journey which was to be his last, the late Premier Brewster appointed him the acting Premier during his absence, from the direction of affairs. Being by far the most experienced parliamentary hand in the present Cabinet, and as well, being a man of considerable force of character, it is held to be fitting that such an appointment should have been made at that time, and now that Premier Brewster is gone, it is equally fitting that his mantle should descend upon the shoulders of the man most eminently fitted to wear it at this particular juncture.

As Minister of Agriculture, and Minister of Railways, Mr. Oliver has already proved his fitness for the high position to which he has been elected. Of course, it must be remembered that the premier is not elected at all. He is appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor. This is one of the little fictions necessary in a democracy under a European monarchy. The lieutenant governor is the man, representing the King, who selects his chief advisor from the elected of the people. But as a matter of fact, His Excellency cannot do otherwise than choose the man who has got the greatest numerical support in the matter of votes in the House. In the present method of party government, it is the party caucus that elects the Premier, and the fact of the Hon. Mr. Oliver being chosen discloses that he has the support of the majority of the House as it is at present constituted.

Fearless and bold in his manner of doing things, Mr. Oliver has shown time and time again his power of getting to the root of things. His handling of the matter of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Company and making them come through has won from him the enconiums of the ordinary citizens of this province. That he will deal with the other large matters which are looming up in the same direct and businesslike manner is to be expected.

When here last fall, Mr. Oliver accompanied Premier Brewster on his trip to the Peace River country, as far as the Lake District in the interior. He was very much impressed with this portion of Central British Columbia, and as minister of Agriculture, there was little within the radius of his visit which missed him. He has a first hand knowledge of the requirements of this, at present, northern country, which he will doubtless put to good use.

SOLDIER FARMERS.

Already several thousand enquiries have been received by the Soldiers' Settlement Board at Ottawa regarding their going back to the land. Arrangements for dealing with crown lands are receiving the foremost consideration, the administration of these lands being one of the most pressing responsibilities of the Dominion government in respect to soldier settlement. A visit to the West in at present under contemplation by certain members of this board, to supervise the necessary arrangements for the opening up of the crown lands scattered throughout the provinces.

One of the things insisted upon by the board is the fitness of the man applying for the proper conduct of farming. Loans will only be made to those whose ability to carry out farming operations is established. In the case of those without capital, who desire to participate in a loan, it will be necessary before the Board can pass upon the question of their qualification that they devote at least one year to agricultural training, the greater part of which must be with experienced farmers. This is considered to be one of the essentials, as it would be of little use giving a man a parcel of land, together with cash advances if he were unable to utilize these to the best advantage.

FOOD CONTROLLER IS SAMPLING WHALE MEAT

Ottawa, March 6.—Fifty pounds of whale meat, choice cuts from near the wishbone, have been received by the Food Controller, with the compliments of the Victoria Whaling Company. The meat was forwarded for experimental purposes to demonstrate its uses as a popular table delicacy and a substitute for bacon and other fancy priced foods. The domestic science experts of the Department will do the experimenting, and several ways of serving whale, hot or cold, roasted or au gratin, will be submitted to Mr. Thomson and his staff for sampling.

The idea is that several score whales now going to waste on the Pacific coast, except for the extracting oils, might be towed to port and cut up for food purposes at a low price per pound. The Department will seriously investigate the possibilities.
