STRIKE UNECONOMIC

Today there is a strike on the Skeena River, the fisher- and Dido Gurvich accounted for men refusing to fish because they are not satisfied with the other two Legion goals. the price offered by the canners.

It may be said with a show of reason that the canners do dent during the last minute of not have to pay any more than they wish for the fish and play in the first half. Pierce, Home that the fishermen do not have to eatch sockeye unless Oil goalie, fisted the ball out and they want to do so. This is a free country.

But there is another angle to the situation. The canners ing he was playing basketball, hold licenses from the government which gives them cer- it further out. A penalty was tain privileges and the men also are not allowed to fish awarded. Horne scoring for the without securing licenses for the privilege. Also the men Legion. will be asking for government relief if they do not fish.

If the fish are not caught the country is that much the poorer. People who want the fish for food fail to receive it, all because the two parties to production fail to agree.

What seems to be needed is legislation and machinery which will force the canners to lay all their cards on the ing to date is as follows: table and show exactly why they cannot pay more than twenty-seven and a half cents and also force the fishermen to show why they cannot fish for less than the sum they are asking. Then a board of arbitration should set the price and this should be final and compulsory of acceptance by both parties, on pain of losing the licence to can or to fish as the case may be. Fishing should proceed and the arbitrators could set the price as soon as their inquiry was completed.

At present there is no such machinery and the result is that a valuable industry, one that promised much to the district this year, is ruined for the season and the whole province suffers, especially the Prince Rupert district.

WHICH MILK?

Editor, Daily News:-

Regarding the request for fresh milk for the children of the unemplayed, may I ask if this is propaganda of the Prince Rupert Dairymen's Association? If it is, well and good, because I believe we should support home industry but, if the request is made in seriousness and for the reason stated, then it is a Fosse, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran joke and utter nonsense. There are far too many ruddy-faced healthy specimens of youth and beauty who pay final tributes of respect to his have been born in this city and brought up exclusively on the cansible people to believe that fresh milk is necessary for infants.

It is a matter of taste. Those who have been fed the canned variety from birth prefer that kind. Those who have had fresh milk prefer that but they will both produce the finest foundations for the best physical specimens of mankind.

Canadian Legion outclassed the Home Oil to win last evening's Stuart Benefit Shield football game by a score of seven to nil. Play was not up to standard although the first half was fairly even after which the Canadian Legion was able to score almost at will.

Despite the adverse score, Home Oil played a courageous game and tried hard, being one man short throughout the match. The team is signing on some new players and, following a meeting to be held Friday night, it is expected its line-up will be considerably streng-
