THE BASIS OF PROSPERITY

The arrangements made by the provincial government for community settlement in the Bulkley Valley, coupled with the fact of the great influx of prospective settlers, with cash in hand, into the Omineca country from the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan cannot fail to carry a great significance for we people living on this western edge of the continent. The prosperity of Prince Rupert, as a terminal city is intimately bound up with the progress of the development of the interior country. The possibilities of the vast hinterland, the potentialities of the rich valleys of the interior from a farming and ranching point of view have long been recognized by the people of this part of the province. The facts regarding Northern British Columbia are now appealing to the dwellers of the plains to the east of the Rocky Mountains, and in increasing numbers they are now coming here to see for themselves what British Columbia has to offer.

In the Lake districts, between Telkwa and Prince George, with the valleys of the Bulkley and the Nechaco rivers running west and east, the influx of prospective settlers has been so great that a bureau of information has had to be opened to afford authoritative information as to the lands available. The diversity of products which can be raised in this district is the chief attraction which brought the old settlers there. The immense amount of vegetation and natural grasses make it the more attractive for the prairie farmer, and for a time, until larger areas are cleared, mixed farming and stock raising are likely to be the chief development.

One of the oldest settlers at Francois Lake says that one of the finest features of this district is that there is practically no sickness among the people there. It is the healthiest country he has any knowledge of, and at that he has been over most of the seaports in this hemisphere. With the settlers already in the lakes district enthusiastic and prosperous, and with something to show for their labors of the past years, there is every reason to believe that their enthusiasm will be contagious with the newcomers, and that this beautiful district will soon become the more thickly populated.

With the filling up of the community area near Telkwa, as well as the increasing settlement farther east, prospects for greater production will be very greatly enhanced, and important progress may be recorded in spite of and in part because of war conditions.

SPHAGNUM

The success which attended the efforts of those active members of the community of Sunday afternoon in gathering quantities of sphagnum moss is significant of what can be done in a material sense, of direct benefit to the boys at the front, by those of us who have not been called yet to place ourselves under direct military discipline. And it is as little as we can do.

The peculiarly absorbent quality of this moss, when dried, is such that makes it better than many bandages and cotton wool for dressing the wounds on the battlefield. Wounds dressed with moss enable the patient to travel a longer distance before requiring attention again, thus saving the time of the doctors and Red Cross staff within the battle zone.

This moss grows here thickly. It can be gathered by the fingers from the spongy bottomed hollows with which this part of the coast abounds. The moss is here. It is required for our boys in France. Are we going to give it to them to facilitate their recovery? The people of Prince Rupert have already answered "Yes."

When that car load of this sphagnum moss goes on its way across the continent to the Toronto laboratories from Rupert, it is to be hoped that those in control of the shipment at this end will see to it that the fact is blazoned in big bold letters, so that "he who runs may read" from one end of the car to the other, just what the folks here have been doing. While modesty is distinctly a becoming virtue, still we must not lose our opportunity of advertising our natural resources.

Insomnia Cured Without Drugs

Internal Bathing Relieves the Cause

If you do not sleep there is always some cause. Don't start dosing with drugs. Nerves can't consume them. Relieve the cause and a good, sound sleep will be the result.

The system cannot be right if the Colon or large intestine is not kept clean and free from all waste matter. Bathe internally if you want perfect health.

Mr. F. C. Voigt, Rapid City, Man., writes: "For several years I suffered from Indigestion, Nervous Debility, Insomnia and Constipation. Had no appetite, and doctors did not expect I would live throughout the winter. Your book interested me. I got a 'J. B. L. Cascade' and in a few days obtained remarkable results. I now sleep and enjoy my meals better than for years before. I regard the 'J. B. L. Cascade' as a Godsend to me."

The 'J. B. L. Cascade' is a perfected appliance for internal bathing, invented by Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, and has been the means of restoring thousands to perfect health. It is shown and explained by Cyril H. Orme, Druggist, cor. 3rd Ave. and 6th St., who will be pleased to give you an interesting book called "The What, The Why, The Way of Internal Bathing" on request. Ask for it.
