NO FAILURE.

Under the ordeal of the great German attack, dispatches from the British Headquarters state that not a single battalion "failed or faltered," and responsible quarters are gratified at the manner in which the British troops have withstood the heaviest attack which the enemy has made since the war began. It is noteworthy that some of the actual retirements on our front have been made only upon receipt of definite orders, after the troops had held their positions, bearing the brunt of the assault.

The defence which has been put up by the British and their French allies so far, most assuredly constitutes one of the greatest epics in history. They have taken such toll of the enemy that the wake of his advance has been likened to a vast hetacomb. When it is remembered that the enemy concentration of guns, and of men is the greatest ever seen on so small a front, and that every mile he gains makes just another mile over which he has to bring up supplies, and food and reinforcements, his difficulties must increase the further he goes west. A great proportion of the strength of the enemy has already been expended during this first week of constant attacking, and the momentum of his initial progress must soon wear itself out. It is questionable whether the German forces can bear any continuation of the physical losses which he has sustained already, and successfully maintain themselves when the offensive of the allies commences.

That the allies' offensive will not be long deferred is certain. Their losses have been nothing like in proportion to those suffered by the Germans, and will be all the more easily replaced. Dispatches show that the British strategic reserves have not been utilised at all in this week long battle, so that they must have a great number of fresh troops to throw into the advance, when the time comes.

That Sir Douglas Haig, and the French commander have got a counter stroke all planned out, and will spring it upon Hindenburg at the proper time, is only a reasonable assumption. They have not been studying the art of war for the past four years under model conditions, for nothing. Knowing and expecting the offensive promised by Hindenburg, their plan of campaign apparently has been to permit him to wear his forces out in vain attacks, and when he is wearied sufficiently of this course of action, and his troops tied down against the growing activity of the allies, an offensive against the Hun may be expected to break out on some part of the line, where it will be most inconvenient for the German high command to meet it, and where it will endanger the whole German line. With the fighting still in progress, there is much to be hoped for to happen within the next period.

Already some of the worn out British battalions have been relieved from the battle front. Worn and dog tired, they were ignorant of what part of the line they were on, nor did they know the day of the week. The experience of these strenuous days must have been a severe one, the memory of which will last.

LIQUOR TRAFFIC
AMONG THE INDIANS
IN NORTHERN B. C.

Ottawa, March 26.—A suspicion that an extensive liquor traffic has been carried on with the Klusheen and Champagne Indians in Northern British Columbia has caused the Comptroller of the R. N. W. M. P. to establish a new post at Camp Pleasant, on the international boundary between Alaska and British Columbia, near the Alton district. The post is opposite Haines, Alaska, and will be in command of Superintendent K. R. Knight, of Dawson.

Two constables, Messrs. Vinall and Gur, will be established at the station. The exact location of the post is given as latitude 59.5 and longitude 136.5.

The R.N.W.M.P. has ten divisional headquarters and one hundred and thirteen post detachments.

An Irish gentleman was astonished to receive the following letter from his son in London.

"Dear Father, I am in the debt of a hole. Kindly send me £10, and oblige.—Your loving son, Pat."

"P. S.—After writing this letter I was so stricken with remorse that I ran after the postman and tried to get it back. I can only pray that it will not reach you."

But who could be more astounded than the son when he received this reply:

"Dear Son,—Your prayers were answered. The letter did not reach me.—Father."

A Clergyman's Wife
Wants Women to Know
Advantages of Internal Bathing

If women could only see the thousands of letters Dr. Tyrrell has received from grateful women in all parts of the world, thanking him for his wonderful invention for internal bathing, they would soon discard the medicine bottle and look to the cause of their trouble. 95 per cent. of all human ills are due to accumulated waste in the Colon or Large Intestine. Warm water, properly used with the "J. B. L. Cascade," will relieve the cause of your troubles and perfect health will follow.

A Winnipeg clergyman writes: "My wife is naturally sensitive about having her name appear in public print, yet is anxious that others should know what the 'J. B. L. Cascade' has done for her. It has really given her a new lease of life. For years she had been doctoring for constipation, which became worse every year. Since using the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' first about 4 years ago, she has not been sick a day, and has become robust and strong again. Should any person wish this letter confirmed, you are at liberty to give my name in private."

The "J. B. L. Cascade" is shown and explained by Cyril H. Orme, Third Avenue, Prince Rupert, B.C.

The "J. B. L. Cascade" is an invention, perfected by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, and has done more during the past few years to restore health and lessen disease than all other means combined. Ask for booklet explaining all about internal bathing and what it has done for others." It is free.
