Huns are Beaten
And They Admit It.

The Huns are licked and they admit it. The war is not over but it has got to a point where the Allies can dictate terms. The enemy is on the run and everything seems to indicate that they will continue on the run.

It is a great thing for the Huns to realize that they are beaten. They are now trying to save themselves before it is too late. It is hardly likely that the Allies will be deceived over the latest proposals. They cannot talk peace as long as German armies are on French or Belgian soil. Even after that it is doubtful if they will be ready to talk terms unless the enemy capitulates and leaves it to the Allied Governments to decide the terms.

The question of returning the German colonies is one that certainly will not be conceded. Whether they will ever again control any of them is doubtful. It would not be fair to the colonies for they are the most governed among the colonies of the world. If the Germans are ready to pay for all the wilful damage they have done to Belgium and France then the question of returning the colonies might possibly have consideration, but the Huns do not expect to do anything like that.

The other suggestions are not worth the paper they are written on. A scrap of paper to a German is nothing. To talk glibly of a league of nations is just camouflage. It is meant for the purpose of deceiving the peace party in Great Britain, but it will be ineffective.

Dangerous Precedent At City Hall.

Alderman Casey is establishing a dangerous precedent. He admitted last night at the council meeting that as chairman of the Board of Works he had secured a foreman for road work and sent men to the City Hall to get jobs. That on the face of it seems innocent enough, but such action as that is at the bottom of all the ward politics and graft which for many years was prevalent in the big cities of the United States.

Members of the City Council should have no more say in the employment of men than any other citizen of Prince Rupert. The system is bad and leads to all sorts of boodling and graft. By doing that sort of thing an alderman is often able to keep himself in the Council and hold a job for which he may be wholly incapable. The city engineer is the man to engage the staff, and if he is not competent to do it, he should be let out and another put in his place. If each alderman were to send his friends to the engineer to get a job, during dull times for instance, there would soon be a lot of hangers on trying to find themselves work at the expense of the city.

This question has come up in all big cities and it has had to be settled definitely. In Victoria at one time men were kept on the job simply because they were proteges of some particular aldermen. They openly boasted that they could not be fired. The thing became a scandal and the system was abolished. For a man who is elected to find jobs for the men who support him is at the bottom of all the municipal scandals on this continent.

Alderman Casey is quite innocent of any ill intent. He was undoubtedly working in the interests of the city, but the system is dangerous and should not be allowed to get a start. Aldermen should keep quite clear of the employees. The heads of departments are the only ones competent to be employers and if they are not competent they should be changed. That is business. Make the heads of departments responsible and expect results.

Condition of Lockup Unsuited for Women.

At the Council meeting last night Alderman Kirkpatrick introduced the question of provision for women at the city lockup. It is to be hoped that there will be no occasion to use the city lockup for women, but if there is need it might be better to let the prisoner go free than to shut her in the cells under such conditions as were described by the Alderman. She says that the Grand Jury recommended a change. Doubtless when the Grand Jury sits again this month it will again investigate and have something to say. Attention must be drawn to conditions such as these or they are likely to remain a scandal to the city.

HIS MAJESTY KING GEORGE

OUR soldiers must be fed; the people at home must be fed. And—in spite of Germany's murderous campaign to cut off the Allies' Food supply, by sinking every ship on the High Seas—an ample and unfailing flow of food to England and France must be maintained.

You Never Know What
A Man
Will Do

Mrs. Williams has been using Pacific Milk for cooking a long, long time. Her husband got to using it in his morning coffee, so they never buy fresh milk any more.

The other evening Mrs. W. bought some fresh cream to give him a treat (as she thought) with his porridge and to use with his coffee.

However, Mr. Williams didn't see it that way and when he discovered it was a different cream in the pitcher, he asked for the same as he'd been getting every morning—couldn't drink his coffee with the other "stuff."
