PULP INDUSTRY IS VERY IMPORTANT

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has just completed the following census for 1917 of the pulp and paper industry throughout Canada:

Altogether the census embraced 80 concerns, of which 31 were in the manufacture of pulp only, 26 in the manufacture of paper only, and 23 manufacturing both pulp and paper.

The total capital invested in this industry, including land, buildings, machinery, stocks on hand, and "working" capital, amounted to $186,374,905.

The total number of employees on wages was 20,685 males and 671 females; on salaries, 1,345 males and 218 females. The total salary and wages bill was $20,344,286.

The aggregate value of production in 1917 was $96,248,824. The census covered altogether 36 products, of which the more important are as follows:—

BRITISH OPINIONS OF CANADA'S WORK

British newspapers just to hand tell of the brilliant work of Canadians in the recent big fighting. The following are a few quotations which give an idea of the opinions held of our men:—

"The Daily Mirror."

Canadian troops showed the greatest skill and courage in storming the switch line and they, admirably assisted by English troops, "carried all before them."

"Westminster Gazette."

"Even while we were speculating whether the Hindenburg 'switch' line would prove strong enough to hold the British attack, that line had been broken through by the splendid dash of the Canadians."

"The Daily Telegraph."

"Canadian troops have achieved a success which brilliant and important in itself may have far-reaching consequences."

"The Canadian Corps who were responsible for the breach are still advancing."

"The Daily Express."

"The news of the breaking by the Canadian forces of the Drocourt-Queant switch line astride the Arras-Cambrai road is beyond doubt by far the most important item that has come to hand for many a day, and, taken in conjunction with the co-ordinated movement advancing along the Bapaume-Cambrai road, it acquires still greater import."

"The Daily Graphic."

"From the strategical viewpoint the capture of Queant is even more important than the fall of Lens. It means that we have broken through the Drocourt-Queant line of defence, and are now behind the famous Hindenburg line. As regards our own troops, it is gratifying to note that, while the prime glory of this great event belongs to the Canadians, there were also engaged both English and Scottish troops, and in addition a naval detachment."

"The Daily Sketch."

"Those splendid trusting troops—the Canadians—have accomplished one of the most brilliant feats of the war. They were on the left of our attack on a 23-mile front between the Scarpe and the Somme, and they smashed the immensely strong Drocourt-Queant line beyond repair. The Canadians made a breach in the famous Wotan switch-line six miles wide, despite the fiercest opposition, no fewer than seven divisions—say 90,000 men—being thrown against them on a five-mile front."

The Brackman-Ker Milling Co., Ltd., has moved its place of business from First Ave. to the Occidental Building, corner of Second Ave. and Eighth St. The company thanks its patrons for the confidence placed in them in the past and trusts they may have the pleasure of continuing to serve them in the new place of business.
