FISHING SEASON IS ABOUT OVER

Many Canneries Closed—Big Pack Of Dog Salmon—Market Uncertain.

The 1918 fishing season is now practically over, says the New Westminster Columbian. Many of the canneries have already completed their operations, and the others will all finish their pack for the season within a week or two. There are still some cohoes being caught in the river and a few steelheads. Dog salmon have been practically non-existent this year so far as the Fraser river is concerned, but great catches have been made by purse seiners on the west coast. The Liverpool cannery, which has a seining concession, had 20,000 fish on the floor last Saturday, and has been getting from 12,000 to 20,000.

Great numbers of dog salmon or chums have been packed this season; the New England Fish Company, it is estimated, has put up a hundred thousand cases. The cannery who have packed a lot of chums are somewhat uneasy as to how they will get rid of it. There is no local market for this variety, and shipping facilities are still uncertain.

The government has not taken over the dog salmon pack as it has taken the pack of other varieties. There is some talk that Italy may take this variety, but the question of transportation is unsettled.

Just Camouflage

The first edition of The News was sold out yesterday and Saturday and Friday and every day last week.

"Nature makes an apple but it is a crab. Man comes along and grafts the crab and behold a pippin! Be a philosopher, friend."

"Yes that is true. Nature makes a man, along comes some one and teaches him to graft and behold a politician."

The war has taught us that many truths in which we believe implicitly have to be revised. That seems to indicate that truth is merely a point of view.

The man who declares that he always tells the truth is a vulgar prevaricator. The plans for that kind of man have not yet been drawn.

Truthfulness is a most estimable quality if not carried too far. In talking to men it may often be in place but when it comes to people of opposite sexes, there ain't no such thing.

The people most lacking in truthfulness are the journalists. They make no attempt to be truthful. Truthfulness is not even an ideal with them. They try to be correct but not truthful. The reason for this is that they have some respect for their front windows.

The newspaper lady who "writes up" a wedding by saying "the bride looked miserable and ugly but not half so miserable as the idiot who walked by her side," is very likely to get into trouble.

Sunlight dispels the shadow that once hung over wash day

IN fact many women do not say "wash day" any more. They say "Sunlight Day". It's a genuine pleasure to use Sunlight Soap because it means an economical wash, it means a quick wash. Why? Because, Sunlight is absolutely pure—you need only half the quantity as compared with ordinary soaps, nor will Sunlight harm any delicate fabrics, or hurt your hands. And it really takes the labour out of the washing in surprisingly little time as you will see by following the directions.
