Canvassers at Victoria Discovered German Sympathizer and Reported Him to Military Authorities.

Victoria, Nov. 12.—Canvassing for the Victory Loan yesterday, Kenneth Ferguson and C. Bishop discovered an old man who thought an invasion of this country by Germany would be advantageous to Canadians. He had never bought Victory Bonds, he did not intend to, and he did not care how the war ended.

The two canvassers entered the grounds of the man's residence. They were greeted by the owner who refused point-blank to have anything to do with the Loan. "I never bought any bonds," he said, "and I don't intend to."

In reply to the arguments of the canvassers, the old man stated his conviction that the Government was "rotten." The canvassers pointed out that they were not there to talk politics, but Victory Bonds.

He did not believe in sending Canadian troops to fight overseas. To this Mr. Ferguson pointed out that if the Canadians were not in France there might be a German Government here.

"I don't know but we would be better off if there were a German form of Government here," said the old man turning away.

The canvassers were quite taken aback. When they further questioned him concerning his nationality, he told them he was English.

"You don't seem to be very English in your ideas," remarked one of the canvassers, and he added that his sentiments savored strangely of Prussianism. The canvassers told the man that they intended to report him to the military authorities. The latter began then to stammer something about how he had not said anything which was wrong, but he gradually lapsed back into the same vein. The Victory Loan officials are leaving the matter in the hands of the military authorities.

Just Camouflage

There are alleged to be robbers, thieves, pickpockets and possibly sandbaggers around trying to hike off with a muddy creek at Cow Bay which will soon be spanned by many G. T. P. tracks. These thieves are wanting to make the steal so they can build some floats for horrid fishermen.

Constable Adams has a good nose for bootleggers but whether he would be able to grab a man getting away with Cow Bay in his jeans is doubtful.

Alderman Casey says the city has not opposed the Cow Bay transfer, but it has given notice that it wants to say something. Possibly it will remark to the chairman that the weather is pleasant.

WAR MORTALITY

Insurance Claims During 1917 as Large as for Previous Three Years.

In examining the report of the superintendent of insurance on the operations of life insurance companies during 1917, attention is naturally attracted to the statistics of war mortality which have been a feature of the last two or three volumes. These indicate that the claims incurred on account of the war in 1917 were not far short of the total claims for the preceding three years. For the companies licensed by the department—not including those operating under provincial license—the claims for the year amounted to $5,629,232, as compared with $6,518,088 for the preceding years. These claims, it might be added, represent approximately 31.30 per cent. of the total death claims incurred, which shows how serious has become the burden imposed by the war on the life insurance companies.

Of the $5,629,232 war claims, $5,011,994 represent claims incurred on the lives of enlisted soldiers killed in action or dying from wounds—the actual military casualties; $375,760 represent claims on enlisted soldiers dying from other causes; the balances, $241,478, were claims on the lives of other persons engaged in war service or civilians dying as a result of military operations.
