be plant of Canadian Aerohis been made possible through advances made by the Dominion Government, which, in turn, is able to do this largely through the Victory Loan. Canada's direct benefit from the Loan is thus,

There are thousands of Canadians in the Royal Air Force, and they have won a high name for themselves by their remarkable exploits. But it is only 18 months ago since the making of airplanes was begun in this country. Pilots were being trained in Canada for the Royal Air Force, and the British Government requested the Imperial Munitions Board to see if the manufacture of planes could not also be undertaken. It was bre that the Dominion Governwat stepped in with the money. madian Airplanes, Limited, was emnized with Mr. Frank Baillie. mw Sir Frank, as president, and Lis under his direction that op-Masson, a Canadian, formerly of the Russell Motor Company, and more recently of Curtis Airplanes. Beffalo, acts as manager. Buildas operations were begun on February ist, 1817, and within 45 working days the making of arplanes had begun; by the end of April, it had been turned out. All the share capital is vested in the Imperial Munition: Board for the British Government.

In the manufacture of airplanes the greatest care must be exerused both in the selecting and preparing and the putting to-Pither of each part, of which there are 11,000 in the average tachine. Nothing of a slipshod where will do. No chance is taken specting the working of a plane; ing been completely set up. the it will do is pretty well nown before it leaves the fac-

Taking everything into consideration no better work in air-Plane production is being done anywhere on the American contiment than in the Toronto plant. Now when the second Victory Loan campaign is under way it is of special interest to know that this work was started by advances such as the War Loans made
