OTTAWA CONFERENCE

Today sees the opening of the Ottawa Conference and noon southbound from Skagway to the eyes of the world are turned to the Canadian Capital. The city is thronged with delegations of outstanding men from Great Britain, Australia, South Africa, India, New Zealand, Ireland and other parts of the Empire to discuss with Canada matters of importance to each and all. It may be said that the very existence of the Empire is at stake, for if this conference fails it means that the ties of Empire do not amount to much.

But the delegates of the British Nations are thinking success. The people of Canada are thinking success. Britain and the other nations are thinking success and under these conditions failure is well nigh impossible.

We all look for great results from the conference. Pos- PICNIC HAMS—Average 1210 sibly we expect too much but the general view is that Lausanne was the turning point in the world depression and that Ottawa will be the greatest impetus toward improvement that the Empire nations will receive.
