

What are Peps

Peps are the new treatment for coughs, colds and lung troubles. They are little tablets made up from Pine extracts and medicinal essences. When put into the mouth these medicinal ingredients turn into healing vapors, which are breathed down direct into the lungs, throat and bronchial tubes. The Peps treatment is direct. Swallowing cough mixtures into the stomach, to cure ailments and disorders in throat and lungs, is indirect. Peps are revolutionizing the treatment of colds and their price is within the reach of all. All dealers, 50c. box. Send 1c. stamp for FREE TRIAL PACKAGE.

MARINE PARADE MOST SUITABLE AND EFFECTIVE

About Fifty Boats Took Part in
Display and the Whole City
Was Out to See It.

Seldom has a more suitable and effective spectacle been staged than that which opened the peace celebration yesterday morning. Practically all the city was out to see the Marine Parade and they were not disappointed. The gaily decorated ships and boats emblematic of the chief industry of the place dipping their flags as they passed the Union Jack on the wharf where the Mayor and Aldermen were grouped for the occasion was a happy and suggestive manoeuvre.

Soon after ten o'clock the boats began to gather in the neighborhood of the Cold Storage, but it was eleven before the Prince George, with all her flags flying and followed by the Prince Albert, swung into the line and the parade started.

The Malaspina, as representing the British navy, led the way. She was followed by the Prince George flying the signal "Victory." The flags of the Prince Albert set forth the emblem "Britannia Rules the Waves," and the tug Lorne which followed carried the signal "Canada Forever." Tugs and trawlers from the cold storage, pleasure boats and fishing craft followed to the number of about fifty and many of them were gaily decorated.

Unfortunately most of the fishing boats were laid up for the winter and were undergoing overhaul or repairs of some kind which incapacitated them from taking part. In a few cases the owners were away otherwise at least double the number of boats might have been in the line. As it was, however, it was a spectacle seldom seen and its inception and carrying out reflects much credit on the organizers. The work of Captain Saunders, who was commodore of the fleet, was highly appreciated and also that of the officers and crew of the Malaspina which remained over for the occasion. Captain Newcombe was to have left on Tuesday, but in order to take part he kept his craft here.

The bonfire kindled on the Recreation Grounds last evening to mark the windup of the peace celebration, proved to be a great attraction. There was a good breeze, without any rain, and the young ones got as close to the big blaze as they could. Many of the grown up youngsters had not seen a real bonfire since the times of the Queen's Birthday celebrations two reigns ago.

WAR VETERANS' BIG PARADE IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Fine Display of Floats and Good
Turnout of Union Labor Representatives Add to Effectiveness of Celebration.

Yesterday's parade which was in charge of the Great War Veterans' Association was one of the finest ever held in Prince Rupert. Unfortunately just as it was about to start a lively shower rather marred the effect, but that was soon over and the parade went on and was a great success.

The features of the parade were the numbers of fine floats that were entered; the presence of representatives of the navy in the person of officers and crew of the Malaspina which is at present in port; and the large turnout of representatives of union labor to take part. The returned soldiers were much in evidence as was quite fit and proper and they carried a banner on which were the words, "Col. Peck, V.C., D.S.O., our Hero." Behind this banner was the Kaiser hanging to a gallows.

A number of little girls, each representing one of the Allied nations, followed a big peace float, a finely decorated affair and eminently suited to the occasion.

The Sons of England had a fine float with John Bull in the centre and a sailor to the right and a soldier to his left. In front was a Union Jack with an English bulldog standing on it.

The St. Andrew's Society float carried the pipers and inscribed on the outside were sayings from Robbie Burns.

The Sons of Canada had one of the most striking floats of the day. It showed Britannia sitting opposite Miss Canada and grouped around were representatives of the chief Canadian industries, agriculture, lumbering, mining and fishing.

The Trades and Labor Council had an interesting grouping; the International Longshoremen's Union, which was out in great strength, carried a banner with the following legend: "International Longshoremen's Union, Enlisted, 58; wounded, 20; made supreme sacrifice, 10."

The local Japanese colony had a fine warship, the Izumo, which must have cost them a lot of money and labor in the construction and which proved very effective. It was fitted with guns and everything necessary to the proper equipment of a warship.

The Fishermen's Union float represented a fishing boat draped with the national colors.

The Boilermakers' Union float was a small shop on wheels with the men engaged in welding. The sign on the float was, "Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders, ready to build ships."

The Metlakatla band enlivened the proceedings with music.

There was also Red Cross, Daughters of the Empire and other floats. The unions were well represented and the fraternal societies and also groups of representatives of the nationalities which were on the side of the Allies in the war. The whole was an imposing spectacle and reflected a great deal of credit on those who organized it.
