MINING NEWS OF CARIBOO DISTRICT

Henry Boursin, the well known miner, returned last week from a trip to Barkerville, and from him the Prince George Citizen gleams the following items from the once famous old mining camp:

The output from the hydraulic mines this year was less than that of last year owing to a shorter water season and scarcity of labor, although the clean-up of the Stout's Gulch mine was more than usual, due to the discovery of another channel of pay gravel. Stout's Gulch is a small stream just above Barkerville. The yield of gold from the Gulch, first by drifting and later by hydraulic, amounts to $2,500,000. The width of hydraulic pay (more than 600 feet) is extraordinary for such a small stream.

C. W. Moore, acting for American capitalists, has bought the locally-owned Waverly hydraulic mine on Grouse Creek, four miles from Barkerville. Although the Waverly is one of the oldest hydraulic mines in the province, it doubtless contains more gold than has been washed out of it, as the head of the sluice-flume is 30 feet above the bottom of the pay gravel in the main channel, and the gravel below the flume is known to be rich.

F. J. Tregillus, T. A. Blair and Pat Carey are sinking a shaft on the nine-foot gold-bearing vein on their Warpsite claim at Proserpine Mountain, four miles from Barkerville. At the present depth, 14 feet, the shaft discloses an excellent showing of visible gold, while the rock in which no gold can be seen shows a nice string of flour-gold when mortared and panned. The vein on which this work is being done has been exposed at intervals by trenching and open cuts a length of more than 8,000 feet and is believed to be the mother lode from which the $20,000,000 placer of Williams Creek and the $2,500,000 placer of Grouse Creek had their origin.

The creeks mentioned drain the western and eastern slopes respectively of Proserpine Mountain, and the strike of the vein closely approximates the upstream limit of rich placer on each creek.

The Lightning Creek Gold Gravels & Drainage Company is drilling with a Keystone on Lightning at Wingdam. This company was promoted by C. H. Unverzagt of New York. Last summer an agent of the United States Government was sent out to the property to see how it tallied with the advertisements. The result is that Mr. Unverzagt is under investigation by the federal grand jury at New York.

The Tertiary mine at Cottonwood Canyon, Fraser River, 17 miles north of Quesnel, is closed for the season. The milling system installed last summer, was tested by working a considerable quantity of gravel and was found satisfactory, the mill-run showing a higher average value than was indicated by the sampling. This is the cemented gold-gravel property purchased from Don Killam by a Chicago syndicate.

SAW "MOVIES" OF NORTHERN TRAWLER

How ground fish and cod are caught on the banks of Prince Rupert by the steam trawler James Carruthers and are prepared large number of fishing men and for the market was shown to others interested in the marketing of cheap fish through the medium of motion pictures at the Canadian Fishing Company's big warehouse, says the Vancouver Province.

The films which were taken on the northern banks under the direction of Capt. F. W. Wallace, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Fisheries Association, and an official of the Canada Food Board are being shown throughout the West under the direction of the Food Board in a campaign to increase the consumption of British Columbia fish. Through the courtesy of A. L. Hager, the warehouse of the Canadian Fishing Co., Limited, was temporarily fitted out for the purpose of exhibiting the films on Wednesday. An appreciative audience was in attendance.

The pictures, the photography of which is exceptionally good, show every phase of trawling, starting with the first cast of the trawl to the disposal of the fish to the purchaser on the piers. The plant of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., Limited, at Prince Rupert, one of the largest and most up-to-date fish and cold storage plants on the continent, was shown. The James Carruthers, the company's big steam trawler, was placed at the disposal of the Food Board for the taking of the pictures, and every phase of the industry was "filmed" even to the breaking away of a trawl of 10,000 pounds of fish.

Your CHILD'S COUGH

WHEN a child starts coughing mother's duty is to give the little sufferer a Peps tablet, and thus prevent any weakening of the lungs. As the tablet dissolves in the child's mouth, the soothing medicinal fumes given off pass through the tender breathing passages straight to the lungs and bring immediate comfort and relief.

Peps contains no opium or other harmful drugs, and can be given to a child (either whole or crushed to a powder) with the assurance of absolute benefit.

One little Pep at night will clear the breathing passages and let the little one's sleep be unbroken by coughing fits. A Pep before starting for school in bad weather is also an invaluable safeguard for the children's throats and chests. All dealers, 50c. box.
