Eye-Sight Service

WE believe that there is only one way to gain your confidence—the good will of the public. To serve you faithfully and honestly and to apply the principle of the "square deal" to all our transactions with you.

WE have now a constantly increasing class of patrons, but modesty prevents us from quoting their very flattering opinions of our services. No doubt you know some of them, and we will be satisfied to have you act on their recommendation.

OUR earnest desire is to give you the best in glasses, to preserve and amplify your sight, and to obtain your respect and esteem as well as your custom.

Come in and see.

WINE AND ITS WORK

To the Editor:

The ablest scientific men of Europe are practically a unit in their statements that wine drinking in all the wine-making parts of Europe has become a curse and should be stopped.

This is especially true of France, where physicians, lifelong residents of that country, declare with practical unanimity that much the greater part of sickness requiring their attention is the result of the use of alcohol. Children at school have their "blue Monday" because of drink. "The anti-alcohol movement in Europe," states that a teacher asked a pupil on a certain Monday, "What did you do yesterday, child?" and received the reply, "I was drunk with my mother and grandmother."

Before the war, a German scientist recorded this terrible fact: "that one can scarcely pick up a German newspaper without reading of a woman assaulted or beaten to death by a drunken person." And another scientist declared about the same time: "The carnal attacks on children, which have frightfully increased, are generally committed in an alcoholic state, and even if the criminal is not actually drunk, alcohol has prepared the ground for the deed."

Why do men drink wine? Simply because of the alcohol that is in it. Does any sane person actually believe, as some assert, that wine drinking can promote social order when its effect in wine-drinking countries are of the character described?

Vance Thompson, not an extremist, says: "Let there be no doubt about it; the wine way to drunkenness is like any other. You say it is cleaner, with gayer prospects and brighter skies? Nine-tenths of that is cant and the cheap apologies of second-rate, brandy-loosened poets. It is not a clean way if you have followed the trail of the wine-drunkard home-faring."

J. H. HAZLEWOOD,
Department of Social Service.

The report of the committee on the City Market which was to have come up at the City Council last night was laid over for a week as the report was not yet in good shape.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Mrs. Johnston Gibbins, Sister of A. T. Parkin, Victim at San Diego.

A. T. Parkin received a telegram yesterday bearing the sad news of the death of his sister, Mrs. Johnston Gibbins, of Vancouver, as the result of a motor accident at San Diego, Cal.

The telegram gave few details beyond the bare facts, and was sent here by Mrs. Gibbins' two daughters. Mrs. Gibbins and her daughters spent last winter in Prince Rupert, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Parkin, instead of going to California as usual, and during their six months' stay in town made many friends who will regret very much to hear of the fatal accident.

Great sympathy will be felt for Dr. Gibbins and the Misses Gibbins in their loss. Dr. Gibbins is very well known in Vancouver, although he has been retired for many years. He was formerly a veterinary specialist there.

The case stands adjourned till tomorrow morning.
