The Great Chieftain At Last "Goes West."

The Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, greatest of all Canadians, who yesterday stepped forward into the unknown, was born in Quebec in 1841 and early in life showed a liking for the study of public questions. As the leader of the opposition he showed great ability by his pungent but not destructive criticism. Gradually he built up a record which made it certain that no other man in the Dominion House could hope to be a rival for the leadership.

When in 1896 Sir Wilfrid carried the country with him on the question of tariff reform, he at once showed that not only was he strong in opposition, but that he had great executive ability, and was an even more outstanding figure as premier than he was as leader of the opposition.

Absolute Ruler.

During the fifteen years of his administration Sir Wilfrid was absolute ruler in his own cabinet and many strong men left but never affected its stability. He was the Government. He always retained the confidence of his party until the time of the last election when the party was split up, some following the Union Government and some following the old leader.

Those Liberals who voted against Sir Wilfrid at the last election were all ready to accept him still as leader, once the war was won. Had the old chief been able to go back to the House and rally his forces he would undoubtedly have carried the country with him again at the next election. As it is he leaves behind a name and a record which is untarnished. His honor was never impugned and his life and work has been a model for statesmen for all time to come.

Mutual Confidence.

When about eight years ago he came to this province and visited Prince Rupert, he was received by Sir Richard McBride and entertained by him at the capital as if he had been a visiting monarch. The Irish Canadian Premier of this Province always took as a model the French Canadian Premier of the Dominion and the two were much alike in temperament.

Sir Wilfrid died in harness, just as he would have wished. He was a man who had faith in his country and his country had faith in him. Many people voted for him rather than for the party, for he inspired them with confidence. For all time to come his life will be an inspiration to young men going into political life and his example of playing the game fairly and carrying on the business of the country in a manner beyond reproach will have a lasting effect on future governments.

A SAILOR'S TRIBUTE

Mr. Charles Walker, 1st Class Officers' Steward on H.M.C.S. "Canada", writing from Halifax, says:

"Anyone who knows the agonies suffered from salt rheum will appreciate my gratitude for what Zam-Buk has done for me."

"All last winter my hands were covered with this disease—they were just one mass of cracks, and it was almost impossible for me to continue my duties. I used remedy after remedy, but nothing did me any good. Then Zam-Buk was recommended and I commenced using it. The relief I soon felt was really wonderful, and after a few weeks' treatment my hands were completely cured."

This is but another illustration of the way in which Zam-Buk cures even long standing cases of skin disease which have defied all other treatment. Sufferers never regret buying Zam-Buk and why not try it first? Why experiment with ordinary preparations when this world-renowned preparation may be obtained at no greater cost!

Zam-Buk is just as good for cuts, burns, bruises, blood-poisoning, eczema, children's rashes, etc., and for piles. All dealers, 50c. box.
