PROHIBITION MAKES GOOD.

Dear Sir:

After a year's experience of prohibition, Mr. Spence, Secretary of the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance, made enquiry of Toronto's business men, members of the Board of Trade, as to the working of Prohibition.

He received more than four hundred replies and of that number only nine were of an unfavorable character. The replies are summarized as follows:

1. Retail and wholesale business increased and improved; a larger proportion of cash trade, a greater demand for the better class of goods.

2. Increased regularity, punctuality and efficiency of workers, resulting in greater earnings for labor and larger returns for capital.

3. More employment at better wages. Better conditions and greater safety of work. Higher standard of living.

4. Rent and taxes more promptly paid. Artisans building and buying homes for themselves.

5. Home life bettered. Wages formerly wasted now used for family comforts and luxuries. Fathers more fatherly. Mothers more motherly, children happier.

6. Savings bank deposits increased. Money diverted from bar and liquor shop to channels of honorable trade, giving health, strength and vitality to business generally.

7. Hotel accommodation improved; now quieter, cleaner, safer and more home-like.

8. Schools and colleges better attended. Improvement in health and morale of pupils, better results from work to teachers.

9. Decrease in drunkenness and crime, fewer police cases, ability to apply prison reform methods from work of teachers.

10. Poverty and pauperism lessened, ignorance and vice diminished, social reform work of all kinds helped and made effective.

11. Former opponents of prohibition have been converted to the support of that measure by the operation of the law, and public opinion is today more pronounced in favor of this method of dealing with the evil of intemperance than when the various laws were enacted.

12. Prohibition has come to stay in Canada, not as a war measure, but as a permanent legislative reform.

Yours faithfully,
J. H. HAZLEWOOD,
Department of Social Service.
