Oriental Question Again to the Fore.

The Oriental question has been discussed in the Legislature and the member for Omineca has been taking a hand in the debate. Among the suggestions made before the Agricultural Committee was one that Orientals should not be allowed to hold title to land. It must be remembered, however, that much land is already in the hands of Orientals and especially of the Chinese. Even here in Prince Rupert there are many Oriental owners, but in Vancouver and Victoria some of the finest blocks in the city belong to the Chinese.

Everyone is agreed that the Oriental question is a grave one. The Oriental and white races do not assimilate well. They are better each in his own country. At the same time these are days of progress when transportation is becoming very easy and it is going to be difficult to fence around a portion of the globe and say that certain people must not enter the enclosure. The tendency is toward broadening, not toward narrowing.

Where is Wrong in Owning Land.

If the Orientals had votes there would be much less of a tendency to be perpetually worrying them. At present they are doing no harm, but are often very useful. There are scarcely any coming into the country and those who are here have pretty well adapted themselves to the ways of the country and they charge almost as much for their services as white men. In that way the industrial difficulty has been solved.

It is not easy to see how the holding of land by Orientals is injurious. If they abuse the privileges in any way it is all right to put on restrictions but there have not been any serious arguments put forward to show that they do this. The only argument that has been used in the past is that they are expected to do menial work, but instead they become land owners and refuse to do the work that is expected of them. They compete in business with white men instead of carrying out the ashes and sweeping the floors for the white owners.

Treat Fairly All Who Come.

The Japanese and Chinese who are here must have fair treatment. The British way has been always to give everyone a fair chance. So it must be with the Orientals. There may, however be restrictions if there is a menace and it would be a menace to have thousands of coolies poured into this country. As there is no suggestion of this being done and as there are already laws and regulations to prevent their coming in any large numbers there is no need to worry.

Hindu Question Quite Different.

The case of the Hindus is quite different, however. They are British subjects and they have been fighting side by side with Canadians against the German menace. At the same time there is no good reason why they should be allowed to move to this country to the menace of our institutions. The Hindus are better in their own country and we must continue to insist that restrictions be maintained against any large immigration to British Columbia.
