OBJECTS TO PRICES.

Dear Editor:
It's the small things in life that generally affect the outcome of large matters. We are all looking forward to a bright future for this young terminal city now that the shipbuilding project is assured and the lumber industry has been given a new impetus. We hope that in a few years it will be favorably spoken of throughout this continent as the "Metropolis of Central B. C."
One of the factors in its future success must be satisfactory living conditions for the skilled mechanic and all classes of labor. He must be well paid, but no matter how high the scale, he will not be satisfied to settle here and make his home here if living conditions are too costly as compared with cities to the south.

To make this an industrial city of importance it behoves the merchants and professional men to limit their range of prices for goods or services to what the laboring man is accustomed to, not a scale suited to a northern mining camp.

Having lived in every important city on the coast, I would like to know where, outside of Alaska (and Prince Rupert) are the tonsorial artists charging 75c for a haircut? Three-quarters of a dollar for the simple operation of shortening your hair. Speaking for the rest of the Samsons in this city, we would not object to 35c. and in war times even 50c. could be extracted by our tonsorial friend without much pain, but when you arrive in Rupert and he says 75c. it gives you a first impression which is not a good one.

I trust that you will accord this letter space in your worthy journal and mayhap it will help to eradicate one of the holdups not at present down on the statute books as a crime, but nevertheless a holdup.

Yours truly,
MENOF TREPUR.

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' HOME

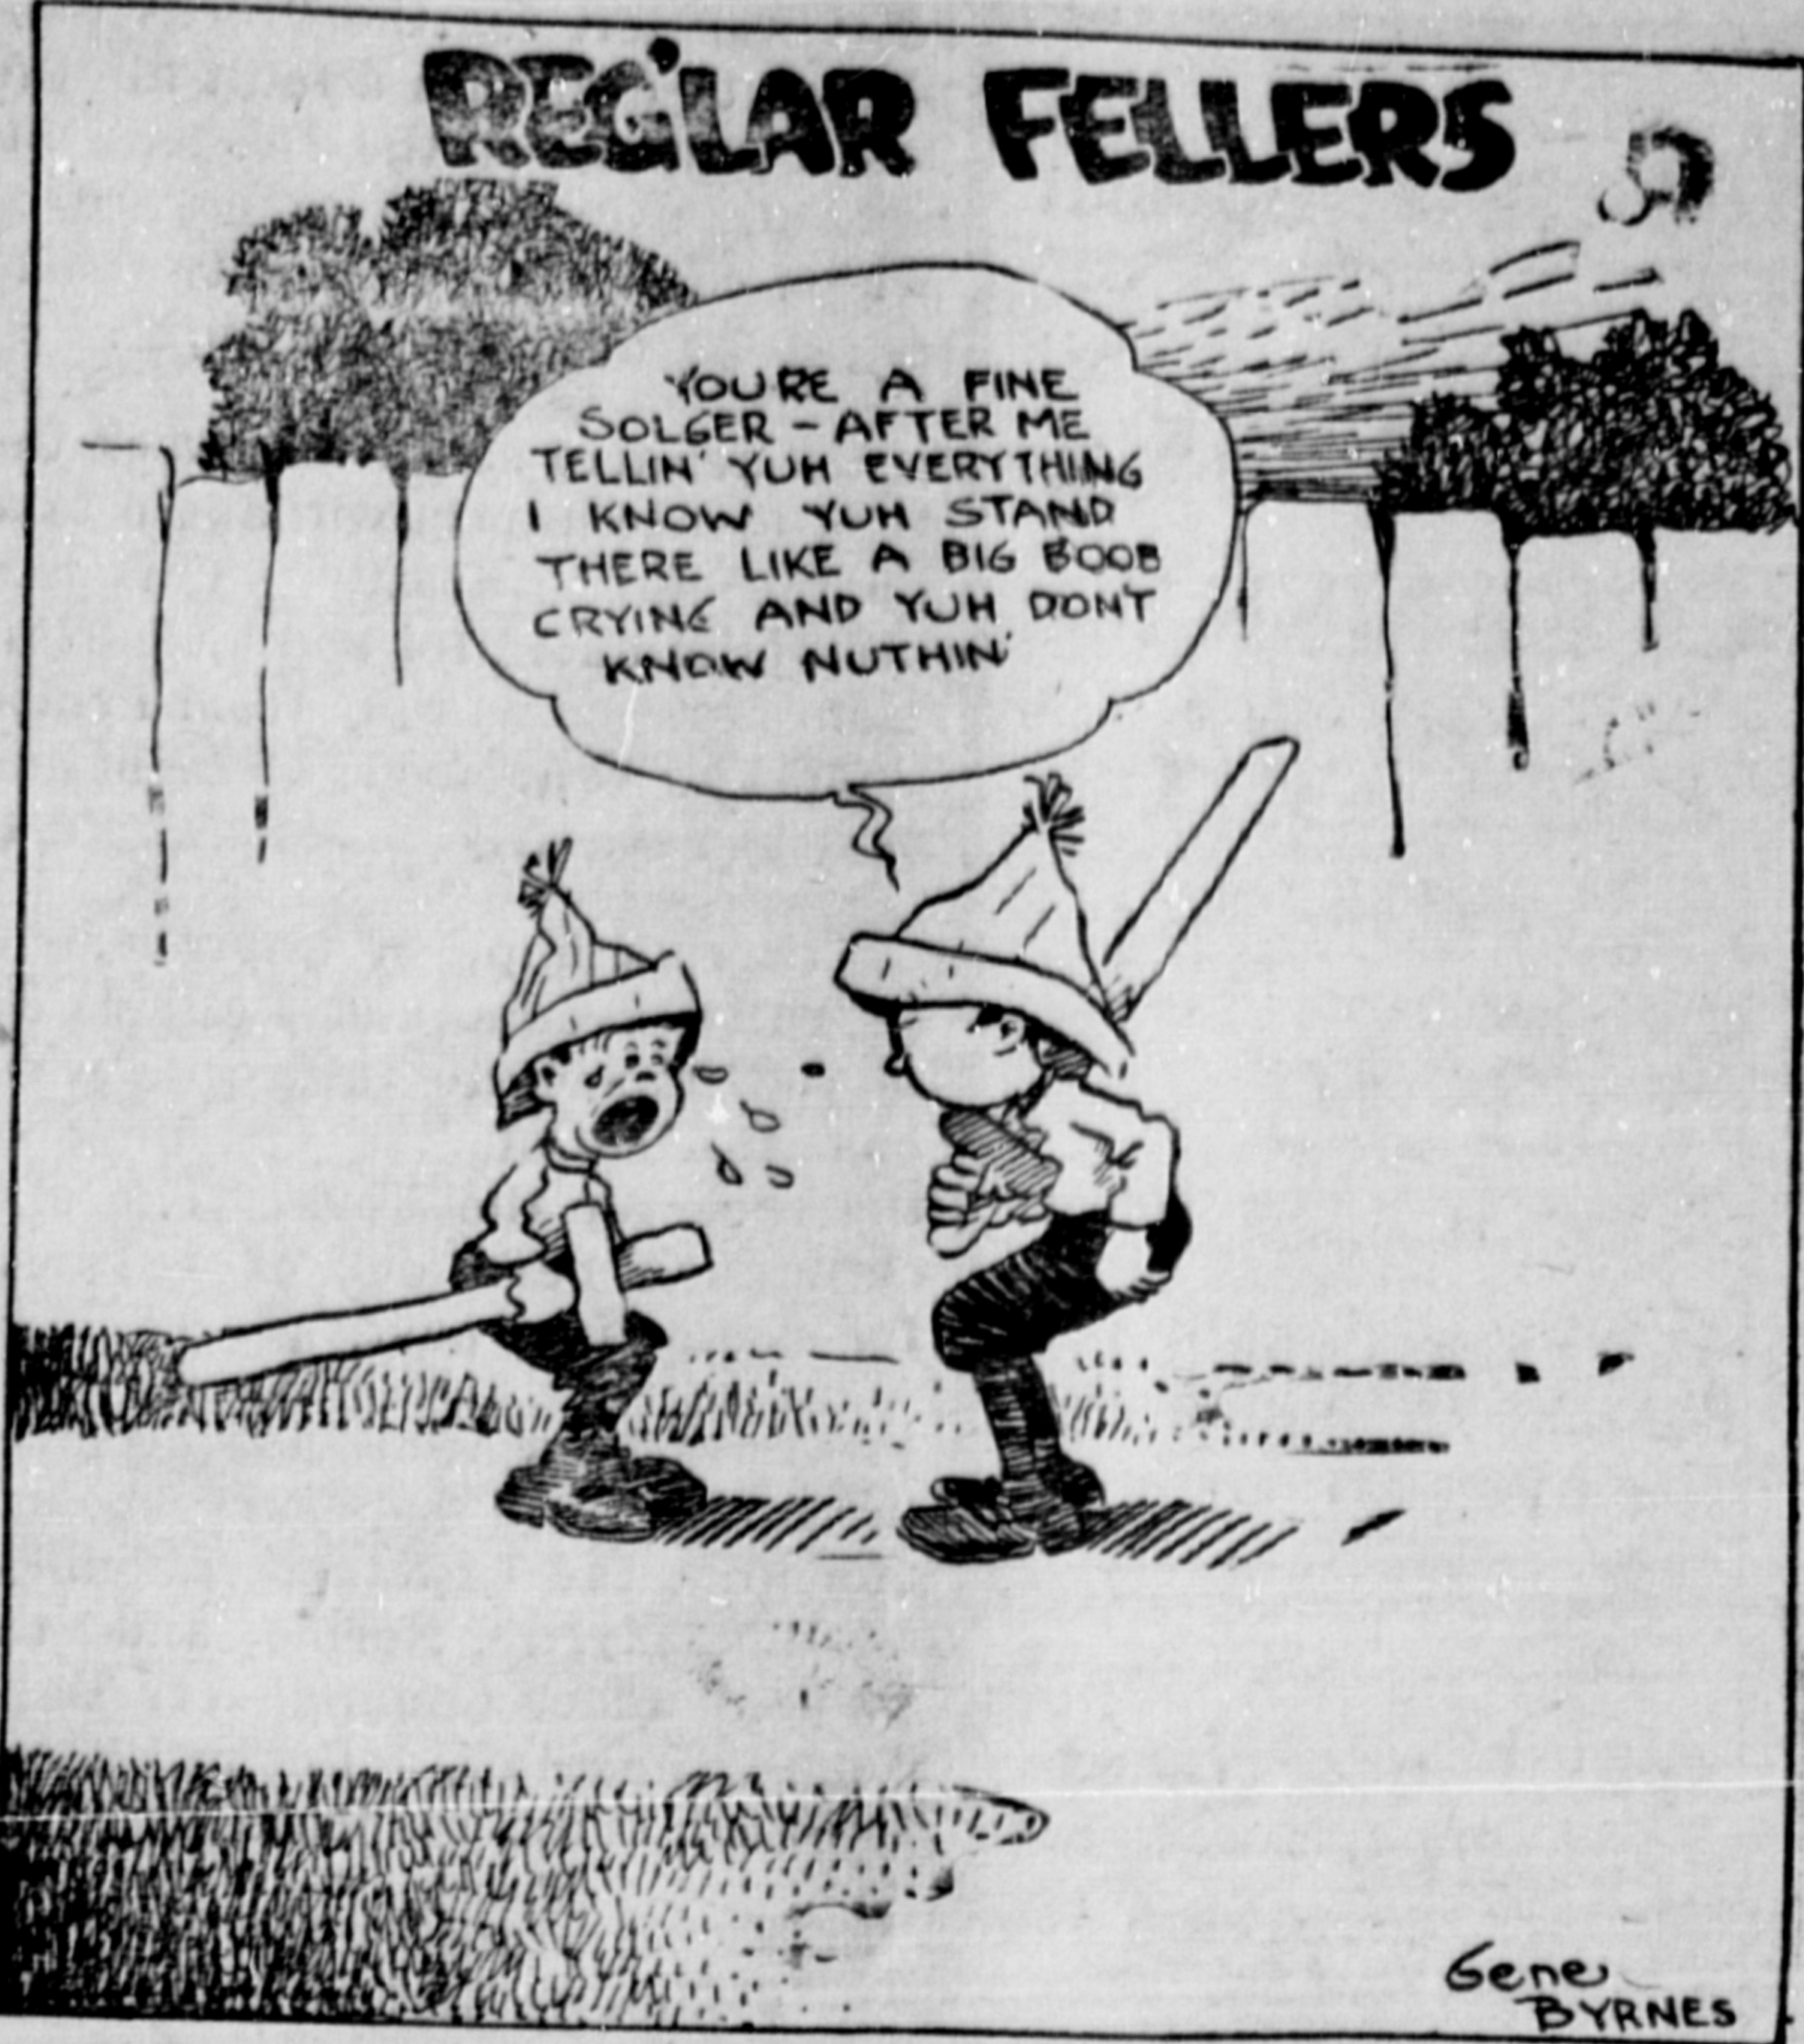

Sir:—It appears to the writer that the recent developments at the drydock and the large orders placed for materials to execute shipbuilding on a large scale demand the erection of a sailor's home, or to use the more familiar name of "Soldiers' and Sailors' Home."

The army and navy branch was recently organized here and this may be a piece of work that the members will undertake with the assistance of the able sea-faring men of the port.

The arrival of numerous ships for repairs at the drydock will be the means of many sailors receiving leave of absence and there is no home at this port.

A home may be erected on some high ground between the passenger station and the docks convenient to the city, with all the necessary rooms to make this a port that will be appreciated by the sailors who arrive here on business as they will be sure of a home while on shore and a hearty welcome from their friends of the army and navy at Prince Rupert.

The erection of such a home may receive the special attention of the Board of Trade, the city Council and the various associations in Prince Rupert as a necessary utility that should receive the early attention and warm support of all the citizens in the town and district to advance the progress of and add to the good name of Prince Rupert.

Perhaps you may open the pages of the Daily News to a brief discussion of this proposal.
PRO BONO PUBLICO.

At the meeting of the City Council last night a letter was read from Dr. H. E. Young, provincial health officer, stating that the city's claim for reimbursement for money paid in keeping up the Borden St. emergency hospital during influenza days had been laid before the Provincial Government and was receiving their consideration.

A man had a range to sell. He advertised it in The Daily News and within an hour after the paper was on the street the range was sold. If you have anything to sell try the classified column.

We Know Where the Milk Goes

We used to wonder where all the milk we put up was going.

The personal house-to-house investigations have shown us.

We find that dozens of homes buy it by the case—and use no other milk at all.

Others buy a dozen tins at a time.

Many homes use it for cooking, and get fresh milk only for the children.

Have you tried it yet?
