TRUE DEMOCRACY

While many nations are struggling towards the ideal no nation has yet secured true democracy. No term more clearly defines itself than this. A knowledge of Greek is not necessary to discover the two words embodied in it "people" and "rule."

The rule of the people means the whole people, not just a party trying to rule the whole and calling this self-government.

Even in Athens where democracy was born two thousand five hundred years ago, the Greeks failed to do justice to this principle, because the slaves who formed a large portion of the people had no voice in the government of the country.

Not Represented.

Our system of representation based upon territorial areas rather than upon classes in the community renders it almost impossible to have true democracy. While we have so many lawyers and so few farmers, so many employers and so few employees acting as members of parliament we cannot as a people be truly represented.

Beyond all dispute the human factor and not the money factor should be the chief concern of our legislators. The time is rapidly coming when those who cannot adjust themselves to the modern conception that the welfare of human lives must be put before large dividends will have to step down from the position of leaders of the people.

Balance Turning.

And yet just at the critical moment when the balance of power is turning in favor of labor, and all classes are beginning to realize that concern for the common welfare must be the dominating principle of true democracy, there is sweeping over the world the strange delusion that the government of the whole community of mankind, irrespective of nationality, can be in the hands of one class in the interests of this class alone.

This is not socialism for it recognizes only a part of society, not each for all and all for each. This is not democracy, for there is no rule of the people only the despotism of a class.

"ITALY'S FLAMING FRONT" GREAT FILM

If you want to take a peep into the distant future, to see what the world may look like when man has conquered the obstacles of time and distance, go to see "Italy's Flaming Front," the amazing war film made by photographers of the Royal Italian Army which is at the Westholme Theatre tonight.

Jules Verne's flights of imagination are beggared by the actual achievements of the Italian engineers, who have built marvelous communities in the sky, and have connected them with a network of aerial traffic links which are constantly humming with activity. Men, cannon, supplies and food speed from point to point in the clouds, and the men who direct this busy traffic 10,000 feet above the ground perform every hour of the day feats which make your heart come to your throat, but which leaves them as calm as though they were walking down a safe street.

These dare-devils of the mountain tops are adding a chapter to the story of the world war which will make thrilling reading for generations to come.

A man had a range to sell. He advertised it in The Daily News and within an hour after the paper was on the street the range was sold. If you have anything to sell try the classified column.

HAVE YOU NICE HANDS?

You can have if you use Zam-Buk regularly. Women who do their own housework and constantly have their hands in water, say nothing equals Zam-Buk for keeping the hands in good condition.

Or, if your hands are chapped, one thorough application of Zam-Buk at night will bring ease by morning, and continued use of this balm will heal the cracks and roughness.

Miss Della Martel, of 35 McKay St., Ottawa, says: "For two winters I suffered acutely from cracked and chapped hands. I tried various salves, which seemed to do them good for a time, but as soon as I went out doors my hands would become just as bad as ever. A friend advised me to try Zam-Buk, and it was really wonderful how even the first application of this balm stopped the smarting and drew out the soreness. In a very short time my hands were quite smooth again. Now I rub Zam-Buk on my hands occasionally all through the winter, and never have any trouble from cracks or chaps."

For frost-bite, chafflains, cold sores, eczema, boils, ulcers, blood-poisoning, cuts, burns and scalds, Zam-Buk is equally good. All dealers, 50c. box.
