HOW MACKENSEN WAS ARRESTED

How Interned at Nersatzujvidek in a Castle Where He is Under Military Guard.

The "Petit Parisien" publishes the following particulars in regard to the circumstances which led to the arrest of Field Marshal von Mackensen:—The interned Field Marshal had given his word of honor not to make his escape, but information was obtained to the effect that he was preparing for flight on December 31, and that his baggage had already been sent off the day before. Colonel Vix, head of the Allied Military Mission at Budapest, having fruitlessly called upon the Hungarian Government to provide guarantees for the Field-Marshal's internment, determined to take action himself. At 3 a. m., a body of Moroccan Spahis arrived at Budapest, and by 8 a. m. Foth Castle was surrounded by them. Mackensen burst into a violent rage, and refused to receive Colonel Vix, but the latter maintained a firm attitude, and the Field-Marshal had him admitted.

Colonel Vix, addressing the Field-Marshal, said:—I have been given orders to ascertain the fact of your presence. My Mission has been accomplished. I shall withdraw.

General Protests.

Mackensen replied:—I protest against this arrest. I placed myself in the hands of the Hungarian Government, not of the Allies. Continuing, he asked—Would you use force to prevent me from leaving?

The Colonel replied that he had orders to guard him, and that all the men on guard were there for that purpose.

In the course of the day the Field-Marshal despatched a vehement protest to the Hungarian Government, which in turn addressed a protest to the Allies, who, however, pointed out that the Field-Marshal had not fulfilled a single clause of his act of surrender.

After some hesitation the Hungarian Government agreed to the transference of the Field-Marshal to Nersatzujvidek under a guard provided by the Franco-Serbian Army.

Ten Minutes.

At 7 p. m., Colonel Vix notified the Field-Marshal of this decision, and on his attempting to dispute the validity of the order, gave him ten minutes in which to get ready. At the Field-Marshal's request this time limit was, however, extended to half an hour. Eventually at 7.30 the Field-Marshal and his orderly officers took their seats in motor cars under the guard of the French officers in command of the Spahis, and proceeded to Goedele Railway Station. Arrived there Field-Marshal von Mackensen, having ceremoniously saluted the French officers, entered the train which awaited him, and in which dinner was at once served to him in the restaurant car placed exclusively at the disposal of himself and his companions. The Field-Marshal expressed his appreciation of the consideration shown to him, saying that it was an example of real French courtesy. He arrived at Nersatzujvidek at 9 a. m. next day, and was interned in a castle in the neighborhood of the town, where he is under military guard.

We Know Where the Milk Goes

We used to wonder where all the milk we put up was going.

The personal house-to-house investigations have shown us.

We find that dozens of homes buy it by the case—and use no other milk at all.

Others buy a dozen tins at a time.

Many homes use it for cooking, and get fresh milk only for the children.

Have you tried it yet?
