DAILY EDITION. Monday, March 31, 1919.

House building
 A Public Duty.

Advertisements on the front page of the Daily News on Friday and Saturday drew forceful attention to the need of houses in the city and the duty of every person to help in the campaign which is now going on. While the language used in those advertisements was calculated to draw attention to the need in a rather spectacular way the general condition was not overdrawn. The houses are needed by the hundred and that at once.

We were all very keen on getting the shipbuilding here. Everyone worked for it and looked forward to it as the one thing that would put the city in the running as a commercial centre. Now that we have it we must do our duty by the people who have ventured their money here. We stand to gain by every development that takes place and it is for us now to see that no neglect on our part injures our prospects.

Rooming Houses are Filled to Overflowing.

The hotels and rooming houses in the city, with a few exceptions, are filled to overflowing with boarders. Some of the men are not working, but are awaiting the movement which is now due. True there are some other buildings that may be improved and put in shape so that they may be used but not many and the accommodation they will provide is not always of the best. Men who will come to Prince Rupert will be men who have been used to some of the luxuries of life and they will not expect to be kept in cabins or in barracks here. The city is now beyond the mining camp stage. Let us build and build permanently so that the people who come here to live will be inclined to stay and make their homes.

Fisheries for Returned Men.

There has been plenty of talk of putting returned men on the land but little has been said about starting them in any other industries. On Friday the Prince Rupert Board of Trade suggested to the member for the district in the Federal House that returned men should be allowed to use gas boats in the salmon fishing and that they should be given the same help as those who go on the land. The idea seems to have been an excellent one. Here is a place where the natural resources of the province may be utilized to help out the men who are getting back from the war. It is to be hoped that the possibilities of this port to provide for some of the soldiers and the utilization of the great natural resources of which this is the centre will not be overlooked.

Change of Time
 General Muddle.

The Dominion Parliament undoubtedly made a mistake when it refused to conform to the rest of the continent in the change of time. In this country we do not need the daylight saving as much as they do in the south, because our summer days are longer than theirs. What we need, however, is to be in conformation with our neighbors. It is now borne in upon us that we cannot exist independent of the United States and yet get along comfortably. That was made clear this morning when our railroads and telegraph services were forced to adopt the daylight saving as a protective measure. Happily the provinces have power to enforce a law dealing with the question and the B. C. Legislature has acted promptly. The result is that we shall all conform to the new requirements and do it legally.
