Bolshevism Not A New Idea.

Bolshevism is a new name for an old idea. It is the rechristening of the revolutionary socialist. The principles and platform are much the same as they were twenty years ago except that whereas formerly the socialist was not able to say how his socialism would be brought about, today he points to Russia as the great example to be followed.

It must be remembered, however, that the conditions in Russia never could compare with the conditions here. In that country there was no such thing as real democracy. Here all that is necessary to bring about a reform is to convert slightly more than half the electorate and at once the machinery of parliament can be invoked and the idea implemented in legislation. That is the safety valve of the country. We already have a big soviet at Ottawa, lesser ones at the capital of each province and another which meets Monday nights in the city hall. Changing the name of the government will not change its effectiveness or its reality.

Labor Represented Already Here.

A few weeks ago the people of Prince Rupert had an opportunity to elect a city council composed of all labor men or women. Three of them, Aldermen Casey, Barrie and Kirkpatrick were the chosen candidates of the labor people in the city. Both of the police commissioners were chosen by the labor unions as their representatives. Looking at the other members of the council it is quite evident that neither one is what might be called a drone. Each is a worker and doubtless that was the reason for his election.

But this present soviet form of government does not suit the few who think that they are dispossessed of their rightful share of worldly goods. They object to anyone making profits, no matter how small or reasonable. It is the system they are after. They are lyingly told that everything is lovely in Russia where the Bolshevik rule and they think that it would be lovely here if a similar condition obtained.

Some Are Always Dissatisfied.

Under a soviet government such as is advocated by the few men who are dissatisfied with the present system, it would soon be found that work would be a necessity and that those who were to be elected to the soviet would have to have the confidence of the people. The result would be just as it is now. There would be an element who would object to real work and who would want to hold office. When they had been voted down a few times they would be forming another revolutionary party to abolish the soviet and establish a "won't work" party.

There are a good many people who are always against the government, no matter what that government may be. It is their nature to oppose. The only way to satisfy them would be to put them in office, and then they would not know what to do with themselves. These will never be satisfied and it is useless to try to satisfy them. When they go to heaven they will take strong exception to the type of hap used and will organize a revolutionary party to secure shorter hours for the musicians.

Bolshevism a Symptom, Not Really a Disease.

Some people imagine that Bolshevism is a disease which is following the war. That is not correct. Bolshevism germs are always with us. They have been with us since the beginning of time and now and then they break out. When there is a violent outbreak it is usually the sign of a diseased condition of the national system.

Dr. Steinmiz who himself was once a German revolutionary and who came to America to get away from the unbearable conditions of his own country, writes interestingly of Bolshevism in the current number of the American Magazine. There he argues that when there is a violent outbreak of the revolutionaries in any part of the country it is a sign that there is something wrong at that point which should be remedied. As long as the conditions of life are healthy there can be no outbreak for the very essence of Bolshevism is rule by the majority. We are in no danger here for the movement is not taken seriously. Here any man can go into the fishing business, for example, and earn as much as any capitalist. He has every chance in life. He is not repressed or held down as long as he behaves himself decently.
