JOINT CONTROL OF INDUSTRY BY CAPITAL AND LABOR SUBJECT OF INVESTIGATION BY COMMISSION

Hon. Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, Announces Five or Seven Men will be Appointed at once to Report on Feasibility of Government Scheme.

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)
Ottawa, April 3.—The appointment of a commission of five or seven men, commanding the complete confidence of the nation, to survey the situation and ascertain the feasibility of the joint control and operation of certain industries of capital and labor, was the announcement made to the Senate by Hon. Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor.
The Government felt what was required was not so much the settlement of disputes and strikes, but the prevention. The policy of the Labor Department was to work in this direction.
Last year there was a conference of labor and capital, and a conference meeting together and surveying all the difficulties and accepted twelve principles upon which employers and employees could agree. Out of it had come wide acceptance of the Whitney and Rockefeller plans for industrial councils, which meant giving to labor a voice in the control and management of industries.

SKEENA CLUB AGAIN BEFORE MAGISTRATE

Evidence of Gambling Given by Police Constable Before
Major McMullin.

The Skeena Club case was brought up again this morning before Magistrate McMullin in the police court, with L. W. Patmore acting as defendant. After hearing evidence for the prosecution the case was adjourned.

Constable Duff's evidence was as follows:

"On the evening of March 25, I entered the premises known as the Skeena Club and found about fourteen players engaged in stud and draw poker. I saw one player who was taking part in the stud game purchase $15 worth of chips. The dealer took the money and handed it to Vic. Caruso who acts as manager, who in turn gave the dealer chips to that value. I also noticed one player engaged in the draw game purchase $5 worth of chips and as the game progressed I saw the dealer in the stud game rake off three red chips, equivalent to 75c., and the dealer in the draw game rake off two red chips valued at 50c. Saw Rakeoff.

"I returned to the place shortly after 9:15 p. m. and again noticed the dealer engaged in the stud game rake off chips to the value of 75c. I left and again returned about 10:15 p. m. and noticed the same thing going on.

"I left the premises again and this time returned at about 10:40 p. m. with Constables Bailey, Adams and McGlinchey.

"I made signs for the other constables to enter, upon which I stated to the inmates of the room that I had a warrant for their arrest. I then proceeded to gather up the chips and cards used in the stud game, while Constable Bailey attended to the draw game.

Settled with Players.

"On commencing to gather up the chips, D. Zarelli (the accused) came up to me and requested me not to mix the chips until he had settled with the players. I granted him his wish whereupon he straightway proceeded to pay them cash for the chips they held. Four tables were in the place, but only two were being used at the time.

Constable Adams.

Constable Adams was then asked to give his evidence in the case which was that he held one of the inside doors and stated that he saw eight men engaged in the game of stud poker and nine men playing the game of draw poker. The rest of his evidence tallied with Constable Duff's.

Constable Bailey.

The evidence of Constable Bailey was the same, except he added that D. Zarelli was in charge of the place and when absent it was looked after by Vic. Caruso.

Constable McGlinchey.

Constable McGlinchey stated that he took one of the doors as his post and counted about thirty men standing on the floor. The case was adjourned by his worship until tomorrow morning.

GOVERNMENT POSITION ON RAILWAY SITUATION, WHICH INVOLVES THE LOCAL LINE

WHILE OTTAWA WILL NOT RECEDE FROM STAND REGARDING RESPONSIBILITY, DISPOSITION IS TO BE GENEROUS TO THE COMPANY

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)
Ottawa, April 3.—The discussion on the railway question continues. On the Government side it is urged that the inception of the railway enterprises, the guaranteeing of which brings the Grand Trunk Railway to its present position, originated with the railways themselves.

When Sir Wm. McKenzie first approached the Grand Trunk Railway with a proposal for linking up the Canadian Northern Railway in the west with the Grand Trunk lines in the east, the meeting point to be North Bay, the Grand Trunk Company was only willing to conclude such an arrangement on terms which practically gave it the control of the whole situation. As Sir William was not willing to do this, the Grand Trunk decided to invade the west itself, and the Canadian Northern, for its part, started eastward to get the eastern terminals it felt to be necessary to complete its line.

Will Be Generous.

The Government will not recede from the former position of holding the Grand Trunk responsible for the guarantees of the Grand Trunk Pacific issues and it is understood that the offer made last July is still open. The Government is disposed to be generous on the ground that the Grand Trunk Railway has done great service to eastern Canada since it was built and partly because the directors of the company have made the English shareholders believe that the Government had been treating them in a very hard and harsh manner. As Canada will have to borrow frequently from London in future, it is not desired to leave any ground for such impression.
