DAILY EDITION. Wednesday, April 16, 1919.

Germany Proposes New Kind of Soviet.

Judging by the dispatches which arrived yesterday the only difference between the Soviet Government proposed by Germany and the present government of Canada is that here the members are elected from districts, whereas there it is proposed to elect them from the various trades and professions.

Lenin rules Russia today. He deludes the people into the belief that they are doing it, but he knows and the outside world knows that Lenin is almost absolute. He is the player with the chess board in front of him and he sacrifices a pawn or a more important figure on the board whenever it suits his purpose.

Great Movie Actor On Another Stage.

Sidney Drew, the movie actor, is dead, but his work will remain for many a year. He lightened many a heart with his humor and did more real work than many a man who really fancied himself an uplifter.

Council Alive to Need for Sports.

The City Council seems to be alive to the need for encouragement of sports and games in the city. At their last meeting they gave the Works Committee power to go ahead and improve the athletic grounds so that all the young people may be able to have the use of it.

Rush Northward Similar to Early Days.

A man who is in close touch with transportation affairs remarked last week that the present movement northward was greater than it had been since the early boom days of this city. Now the development is along industrial lines and seems destined to continue.
