LATE SERGEANT DIED HELPING COMRADES

Following is part of a clipping from a San Francisco newspaper stating men who had won honors on the battlefield, among whom the name of Sergeant Myron Hoffman was mentioned. He is a nephew of Harry Hoffman of this town, and was killed October 31. "The only other Distinguished Service Cross to be awarded to any one in Company 'M' has been presented to the parents of Sergeant Myron Hoffman of San Francisco, who was killed on the night of October 31 in Belgium by shell fire while out on the battlefield under a terrific fire attempting to bring in some men who had been wounded earlier in the day. A number of his comrades in Company 'M,' have planned to visit Hoffman's parents when they return to their homes, and tell them of the bravery of their son personally. "They are bringing home with them Hoffman's rifle, which will be given to his" parents.

(Note). The parents of Sergeant Myron Hoffman have both been dead a number of years, dying when Sergeant Hoffman was quite young. No doubt the rifle and the Cross will be given to his brother in San Francisco.
