DAILY EDITION. Tuesday, April 29, 1919.

Meet the Minister And Discuss Matters.

The member for the district in the local house and the head of one of the important departments in the Provincial Government is in the city. Tomorrow afternoon he is to address the Board of Trade in the council chamber on things which interest this city, and he is meeting many people individually and discussing matters with them.

This is the time to keep in touch with what is going on in Victoria. Mr. Pattullo is naturally very elated on the success of the Government in rescuing the finances from a very low condition and feels pleased at the large amount of work they have done. He says that practically everything the returned men had asked of them recently had already been discussed and practically decided upon.

The city council expects to meet the minister in regard to the housing scheme. The details of the agreement between the city and the province have to be worked out and the council realizes that the best thing to do is to get first hand information.

Now that Mr. Pattullo is here is the time to take up any public matters that may be of pressing interest to Prince Rupert people as long as they fall within the jurisdiction of the provincial authorities.

Clear the Way For Development.

There have been recent inquiries sent to the City Council in regard to the use of the waterpower on Falls River. The city at present has first claim on it, but it is generally realized that to bring power from that distance and to provide the mechanical appliances to develop it would be much too big a job for the city. Financing it would be an impossibility.

Apparently there must be some other concern that has the use of that power in view. It is known that there have been people looking for power for pulp and paper mills and for other purposes. If there is a possibility of some big industry being established up the river, it would hardly be wise for the city to continue to hold on to its reserve and keep the industry out. It is wise to look well ahead, but foolish to be guided too much by sentiment when opportunity is knocking at the door. Nothing will build up this city like encouraging big industries to come. We are in a difficult position insofar as laying out and improving the city, and it will take all our resources for many years to come to construct roads and sewers and parks and put in water mains.

City Park is Beauty Spot.

Those who have not visited the new park at the corner of McBride St. and Eleventh Ave. should lose no time in enjoying the beauties of this pretty place. The city engineering department has done wonders with the small amount of money at its disposal and it may confidently be expected that in a few years Prince Rupert will have there as pretty a park as is seen anywhere on the coast.

The particular beauty of the place is the stream that flows through it. This has been partially cleared of logs and the change in its appearance during the last weeks is a delight.
