Acropolis Hill as Site for New School.

The proposal to have the new public school erected on the hill near the exhibition building in order to be in the centre of population and to provide immediately large play grounds for the pupils without further expense to the city, has been very well received. It is generally recognized that the ordinary city block is much too small to accommodate an eight or ten roomed school and at the same time to give space for playgrounds both for the boys and girls. This is clearly shown at the King Edward school where the boys may not play baseball for fear of breaking the windows.

The King Edward School provides for all the pupils in the direction of Hays Cove. There is still a room to spare at Seal Cove, but the only accommodation for the southwesterly District is the Borden St. School, part of which is used for a high school. It was built for a high school and it is suggested that it continue to be used for that purpose for the present.

The only objection taken to the use of Acropolis Hill is the climb for the children. But when did a climb hurt a child? The healthy child enjoys a climb. Up there the youngsters will be away from the smoke and dust and noise of the city. There does not seem to be any alternative proposal that is worth considering.

The News would like to urge on the school trustees the need of taking immediate action to provide for the pupils, no matter what site they choose. It is not fit that the pupils should be taught in buildings that have been built for stores and which are not suited for school purposes. The city population will be increasing rapidly and it takes much longer to erect schools than houses. If the structure is to be of a permanent nature, as it is to be supposed it will, an immediate start is necessary to cope with the present situation.

Samuel Gompers Opposes Bolshevism.

Bolshevism was bitterly denounced by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in his address before the National Civic Federation after his return to America.

"All of you who know me or know of my attitude in regard to labor conditions know my absolute opposition to Bolshevism in theory and to Bolshevism in fact," he said.

In theory Bolshevism is an impossibility. In fact, if it were put into operation, or could be put into operation, it would mean the decadence or perversion of the civilization of our time. To me the story of the desperate Samson who pulled the Temple on his head is an example of what is meant by Bolshevism. I am not willing that all of the genius of past ages should be flung to the winds. And I am not willing that the little service that I may have been able to render during the long years that I have attempted to improve conditions in a constructive way should be destroyed by maddened desperation. And so may I say to you that it is well for us to see now that our house is kept in order."
