PRINCE GEORGE SETTLES DOWN AFTER RIOTS

"Citizen" Gives Full Account of Troubles Which Resulted in Several Leaving Town.

Damage to the Arcade building estimated at $2,000, Max Schenk's real estate office was wrecked, the interior of Conrad Reinharz' office suffered a like fate and a plate glass window demolished in the Princess block, says the Prince George Citizen. This summarizes the damage wrought Thursday night when a demonstration led by returned soldiers and civilians finally settled down.

The attack on the Arcade building, the soldiers allege, was made because of a letter written to the city council by Joseph Tadin and published in the Citizen on the 18th inst. The returned men further state that Tadin's letter was intended to discredit the city police force, of which a war veteran, Alex. Stewart, is chief constable.

The trouble had been brewing for some days, and on Thursday evening the Great War Veterans held a special meeting at which it was decided to give notice to some alleged trouble makers that their room was greatly to be preferred to their company as citizens. Violence of any kind was forbidden and so understood by the veterans. Among those to whom notice was to be given were Joseph Tadin and former Chief of Police Dolan, who, the returned men say, was really the man behind Tadin in making trouble for the present chief of police.

Germans Tagged.
 Accordingly, the meeting broke up about 10 p. m., the soldiers lined up on George street, formed fours and marched off in search of Tadin and Dolan. Neither could be located and procession disbanded with the understanding that the "disturbers" would be located next day. A number of Germans whose alleged activities and sympathies had become distasteful to the veterans were also tagged for deportation, and these included Reinharz and Schenk.

Up to the time the soldiers disbanded the proceedings had been orderly and evidently without thought of violent methods. A majority of the soldiers dispersed to their homes and it was thought all danger of destructive demonstration had passed.

Nearly two hours later a group of soldiers and civilians gathered opposite the Arcade building, when the destruction of the front of that building commenced.

German Opens Fusillade.
 Mayor Carney, who had arrived on the scene, states that the first stone was hurled by a German resident of this city. A perfect fusillade of rocks and missiles of all kinds followed and the destruction of the interior of the building was rapid and complete. Martin Zadelovitch, half owner of the building and Tadin's partner, informs the Citizen that in addition to the damage wrought, a large quantity of clothing, blankets and his complete stock of provisions were carried away, also a typewriter and some valuable jewelry.

The demolition of Max Schenk's office across the street quickly followed, and the crowd then proceeded to Conrad Reinharz's office in the Princess Block, where the fixtures were broken up and the safe rolled into the street.

 Tadin, Schenk, Reinharz and ex-Chief Dolan did not question the order to depart from hence, and without waiting for trains took a tie-pass early Friday morning with their faces to the east. Also a number of suspicious characters believed by the police to be bootleggers were given running orders by the authorities.

Citizens Will be Protected.
 A regrettable aftermath of the disturbance was the indiscriminate ordering from the city of responsible residents irrespective of nationality. The Great War Veterans properly disclaimed all responsibility for this action and promptly took the offenders in hand. While the orders for departure were being handed out thick and fast a delegation of business men waited upon Mayor Carney requesting that the people be given assurance that they would not be molested should they fail to obey the mandate

BEWARE OF DECEPTION

Statistics show that when egg albumen is used as a constituent of baking powder, the amount so used is too small (usually 15/100 of 1%) to affect the quality or effectiveness of the baking powder containing it, and when so used, is plainly for the purpose of fraud. Intelligent buyers will not permit themselves to be deceived by the water glass test.

Port Simpson, B. C., April 18, 1919.

Harry Hanson, Esq.,
 Prince Rupert, B. C.,

Dear Sir:

Your Hanson Hot Water Coil has been in our range for just one year, and in all this time it has been 100 per cent plus efficient. I use the "plus" advisedly for not only has the coil provided an abundance of not warm but HOT water at all times, but by placing the forty-gallon tank in our large ten by ten bathroom it has kept it cosy in the coldest weather.

Although our range is small, Mrs. Young informs me she cannot see that the baking qualities are affected in the least by the coil.

In your perfection of a modern household necessity, I congratulate you.

Sincerely,
 (Signed) R. B. YOUNG.
