FUSION WITH GERMANY IS NOT POSSIBLE

Chancellor Renner of Austria Says There is no Hope.

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)
Vienna, May 11.—The death knell of old Austria sounded in Parliament when Chancellor Renner in accepting nomination as a peace delegate said he relinquished all hope for fusion with Germany. The speech was made while the impression caused by the Allies' terms to Germany was still strong. The feeling in the Chamber was, according to one speaker, that it would be madness to unite with a nation subject to such measures.

"HER BODY IN BOND" AT EMPRESS TONIGHT

Wonderful Story of Struggles of a Vaudeville Actress With Interesting Outcome.

"Her Body in Bond," the powerful drama to be screened at the Empress this evening, contains a gripping absorbing plot. Although the underlying theme of the story is age-old, the treatment is fresh, and shows to a degree the lengths to which the little wife is prepared to go to save the life of her husband.

There are peeps behind the scenes in a big theatrical production; there is the contrast between the artist's smile as she responds to encores after her dance, and the look of dismay she wears when she sees her husband having what may be his final hemorrhage; there is a battle scene between the rejuvenated husband and the human vulture, and the poetic justice of the tool of villainy falling from a ten story window.

All through the play is full of zip and will please the most exacting.

AUSTRALIA HAS BIG STOCKS OF SALMON

Unlikely to Take Any of the 1918 Pack From Canada Says Report.

Investigation made in Melbourne and Sydney, on behalf of some British Columbia exporters offering large quantities of chum salmon, demonstrated that practically all the wholesale importers of canned fish have full stocks and the market is somewhat depressed.

The grade of chum salmon is chiefly imported by Sydney merchants for the South Pacific Islands trade and its consumption in Australia is practically negligible.

In 1918 orders for salmon were placed at the high prices then ruling, and in larger quantities than usual, in anticipation of a longer duration of war conditions. Under normal conditions the importations would have been disposed of profitably, but a mild summer (at which season there is the largest demand for canned fish) and a more plentiful supply of meat at cheap prices, restricted the sale of salmon in a marked degree. Under the circumstances the consumer preferred cheap meat to dear fish. The market has been somewhat disorganized during the last two months through speculators—outside of the regular wholesale importers—desiring to unload at a sacrifice immediately after the armistice was declared.

Under present conditions it would appear unlikely that importers will take on further commitments, and the Australian market does not appear to offer encouraging prospects to Canadian packers for the disposal of any of the 1918 pack which may be held for realization.—Trade Commissioner's Report.

John Tooner was brought before Magistrate McMullin in the police court this morning and fined $10 for celebrating last night.

CANNERYMEN DO NOT LIKE REGULATIONS

Claim that Holding of Fishing Licences for Returned Soldiers Will Lead to Disorganization of Industry.

Vancouver, May 10.—Considerable dissatisfaction is expressed by cannerymen at the new regulations regarding the issuance of licenses and fishery regulations in District No. 2, comprising northern waters. The new regulations were announced several days ago by the Government and are designed to include a number of returned men in the granting of gillnet licences.

The chief objection taken by the cannery operators is that the Government will not grant any licences until such time as the applications for the permits allocated to soldiers have been taken up. Civilian fishermen cannot receive their licences until after June 1, before which time soldier applicants must file their applications. This means, it was stated by one man prominent in cannery circles, that with the fishing season opening on June 15 the whole fishing industry will be disorganized.

It is pointed out that the cannery stores have been carrying fishermen through the winter, charging up their accounts against the anticipated catch for the season. With one-third of the licences reserved for returned men, and the consequent displacement of many of those who were engaged in gill-net fishing last year, the cannery stores are not in a position to carry the fishermen along until the season opens, not knowing whom the new regulations will displace, it is stated.
