LOW FISH PRICES DETER ENTERPRISE

Company Lay is Now More Profitable Than Share System.

There is a good deal of dissatisfaction among the fishermen at the low prices which are being paid for halibut. Many of them claim that they cannot make any money at 9c. a pound, the price which has been obtaining recently and as a result some of the boats have tied up.

Since the drop in price there has been a desire among the fishermen to secure positions on the company boats. When prices were high the share system was the best, but now there is more money under the "company lay."

The buyers claim that the eastern market is glutted and that the prices paid there are so low that it does not pay them to handle the fish.

ADVISORY BOARD WILL MEET AT SMITHERS

Barrow, minister of agriculture, has consented to the plan, and it is expected the assembly will take place at Smithers about the middle of June, says the Interior News.
