J.S. WOODSWORTH WOULD ADMIT THE ORIENTALS

Advocates Internationalism of Labor as Well as Capital; Defends Bolsheviki and Advocates Labor Members.

At the labor meeting held in the Westholme Theatre last night J. S. Woodsworth told a large audience that as a matter of principle it was right to admit Orientals to this country and that if, under proper conditions, the English-speaking people could not hold their own they would have to go under.

He went on to tell how the Japanese were organizing their own unions and were refusing to scab during a strike, and he urged his hearers to learn to rise above little nationalism and to become international in their views. They would have to rise to internationalism before the great questions before them were solved. Capital was international and labor would have to become the same. For the worker the working class was more important than the nation.

"Who owns British Columbia?" inquired the speaker. "Britishers? No the province is nearly all owned by Americans."

Defends Bolsheviki.

Mr. Woodsworth defended the Bolsheviki. They undoubtedly had failures and shortcomings, but William Allen White who had investigated said that there was no red terror in Russia, and the tale about the internationalization of women was not now believed anywhere. He quoted the London Daily News in regard to the virtues of the new movement and told of the cruelties of the Czech-Slovaks.

Speaking of aliens and their deportation, Mr. Woodsworth said that only about half of Canada was British. Of the two millions who had come in during the few years prior to the war 38 per cent were from the British Isles, 34 per cent from the United States and about 27 per cent of all kinds of mixed races. He told how in some townships on the prairies nearly all were foreign and in one of them there was one Englishman with a Buckowinian wife.

"The politician who puts into the mouth of a man the cry 'deport your aliens' is either ignorant or criminal," he declared.

Labor Members.

Mr. Woodsworth spoke of the cause of the war, of the rise of woman and of her place industrially. He declared that the workers should use every means to their hand to improve conditions. He favored sending labor members to parliament and doing everything possible to change the present system which was absolutely and crushingly unjust. Social production which had come involved social control. No man could any longer live to himself. The difference between a soviet and parliament was that at present members were chosen from constituencies whereas under the soviet system they were chosen from the trades. The Russian soviets had restricted the vote to those who worked only. In this they were not as radical as St. Paul who said "If a man will not work neither shall he eat." The Bolshevists said "If he will not work he shall not vote."

At the conclusion of the lecture a collection was taken, amounting to $105.25. W. H. Montgomery presided.

J. T. C. Williams, inspector of fisheries, arrived Saturday afternoon on the Crosby to resume his duties here. He is improving in health and hopes to be able to continue his work throughout the season. He has already visited all portions of the district and found conditions satisfactory. He reports that the outlook is good if weather conditions are satisfactory.

FARM LOANS for SOLDIERS

How Returned Men Can Become Farmers

EVERY returned man who wants to become a farmer and is qualified for that vocation can get real, practical help through the Soldier Settlement Board.

The Government's programme includes:—

- (1) The securing of land.
- (2) The loaning of capital needed to purchase equipment and live stock, and erect buildings.
- (3) Agricultural training and farm supervision.

The Loans Granted

Loans may be approved by the Loan Advisory Committee, according to the needs of the settler, on the following basis:—

- (1) Up to $4,500 on the purchase of land.
- (2) Up to $2,000 on the purchase of live stock, implements and other equipment.
- (3) Up to $1,000 on the erection of buildings and other permanent improvements.

The first and third are repayable in twenty-five equal annual instalments; the second in four equal annual instalments beginning the third year, no interest being charged for the first two years.

On all these loans the low interest rate of five per cent. will be charged. A cash payment of ten per cent. of the purchase price will be required on the land—but this may be waived by the Board in special cases.

Qualified settlers on Dominion lands may secure loans up to a maximum of $3,000 on a plan similar to the above for farm equipment, live stock, and erection of buildings, provided security offered justifies the loan.

To Whom Granted

To be entitled to these privileges a man must have served with an honourable record in the Canadian, Imperial, or British Colonial forces in an actual theatre of war or outside of the country in which he enlisted (service in U.S. or Bermuda not included). Others eligible are:

A British subject who lived in Canada before the War and who was on active service with the Allied Forces in an actual theatre of war.

A member of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who served in Canada only, but is in receipt of a pension for disability occasioned by such service.

These benefits are also granted to widows of such men.

A Broad Policy

All soldiers whose best interests will be served by taking up farms will be assisted. Only suitable land will be approved. That is (a) land that is near to existing railways or organized communities; (b) land that will make money for the soldier; (c) land that will provide a first-class home.

In addition to these advantages the Board has planned a system of collective purchase, so that it can guarantee settlers the best value obtainable anywhere in live stock, implements, lumber, and other needs. It will also assist soldier settlers with advice and supervision, if necessary, in the management of their activities, so that the best results will be obtained.
