PASS RESOLUTION ENDORSING PENSIONS FOR MOTHERS AND COLLECTIVE BARGAINING FOR INDUSTRIAL EMPLOYEES—JOINT CONTROL OF INDUSTRIES SUGGESTED

The following resolution of the Social Service Council of Canada read by Archdeacon Heathcote was approved by the Anglican Synod yesterday:

"The Social Service Council declares for the right in industrial life of organization and of collective bargaining on the part of employees and employers alike.

That profit sharing in industry and co-operation in commerce should be encouraged and extended, though promising no general or permanent solution of the problems of industry and commerce.

"That there can be no peace nor permanent solution of these problems nor can the maximum of efficiency be reached until suspicion and fear give place to confidence and brotherliness in the spirit and according to the teachings of Jesus.

"That to this end employable workers must be insured against unemployment, accident, disease and old age.

"Each worker must have a wage sufficient to provide decent housing, sufficient food and clothing and education and reasonable culture and recreation for the family.

"Provision must be made for an additional and fair return for special skill, ability, prowess and inventiveness.

"That as rapidly as possible the ideal of eight hours for work, eight hours for sleep and eight hours for recreation and culture must be realized.

"All parties to industry—employers, employees, managers and the community—must be given a due share in its control and, therefore, in determining wages, hours, and all working conditions and these must meet frequently in free and frank conference over all problems that concern any or all."

Insurance of Mothers.

The subject of social service was very ably placed before the synod by Rev. W. Leversedge of Anxox. He indicated what were the causes of social disorders and the present distressing conditions of unrest. He also moved resolutions to the effect that there should be mothers' allowances from the state to assist families whose means are limited to enable the children to have proper care and education. There was especial need for such a pension where the father has died, leaving a widow and small children unprovided. The home, he said, was the proper place of influence for the child but at present the widow has to leave her home to work for the feeding and clothing of her young family. The state would do well to provide for the proper training of fatherless children and there is no better place for this to be done than in the home under a mother's influence.

L. M. de Gex suggested that the Government might adopt a form of state insurance to fill this need.

Archdeacon Heathcote spoke very eloquently in favor of the work of the Social Service Council.

CANON RIX TELLS OF THEOLOGICAL COLLEGE

Soldiers are Resuming Studies After Campaign in France and Flanders.

Canon Rix was first speaker at the conference at the resumed session of the Anglican Synod on Wednesday evening. He very eloquently spoke of the proceedings of the last meeting of the General Synod. He also told the synod of the work of the Anglican Theological College of British Columbia in Vancouver which is training men for the ministry in each of the dioceses in this province.

The number of students at the college during the war was necessarily small as no candidate of military age or fit for service was accepted during the war.

Among soldier students who have returned to complete their course are some with bravely won decorations and one who went from the college as a private and has returned to finish his studies as a colonel.

PORT SIMPSON SPORTS ENJOYED BY BIG CROWDS

Rain Falls to Damp Spirits of the Natives at Week End Celebration.

It rained! And then some. But in spite of all the rain, it could not interfere with the spirit of the very jovial crowd which thronged the little village of Port Simpson for the sports at the week end. There were visitors from Kincolith, Greenville, Metlakatla and from Alaska. The object of the celebration had been accomplished, which had been planned as a general reunion of all the Tsimshian speaking people, to bring them more in touch with one another. In former days this would have been done in another way, but having adopted more modern methods and customs for the uplifting of the younger people by promoting clean and healthful sports and to develop a clean spirit of rivalry among them.

The opening parade was marked by a very interesting float that was featured by the Young Peoples' Education Association of Port Simpson. One half of the float was a representation of the people in very early days, dressed in their robes and head-dresses, etc., the other half of the float showed how far they had advanced from these customs.

Owing to the very rainy weather, baseball was out of the question, so football matches was the order of the day. On the first day the Kincolith team was defeated by the Port Simpson team 2-0. On the second day the Greenville team was also defeated by the Simpson team, the score being 6-0.

Many very interesting costumes were shown on the night of the masked ball, the best being that of Mrs. F. Magar, representing "Miss Canada," and that of Mrs. Ross in "Britannia."

The athletes of the day was Wm. Jeffrey who starred in every event that he took part in, coming in first in the 220 yard dash and one mile and his team winning in the one mile relay and second in the 100 yard dash.

Owing to weather conditions the motor boat races have been postponed till a more favorable time. Many boats were entered for this event.

The crowds gathered so thick at times that it reminded these present of the Rupert fair, only in this instance none were without beds.

EMPLOYEES OF CAR SHOPS ALL ON STRIKE

Trades and Labor Council Will Meet Tonight to Discuss the Situation.

At a short meeting at the G. T. P. car shops yesterday afternoon the employees decided to strike at 4 p. m. The strikers are the machinists and helpers, blacksmiths and their helpers, carpenters, car repair men, watchmen, wipers, the store keeper and assistant, painters, boiler makers and electricians.

The longshoremen have agreed to discharge the cargo which comes here on the boat Saturday, but whether they will do any more work after that seems doubtful.

There is a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council to be held tonight at which the whole situation will be discussed by the men. Possibly by that time there will be word from Winnipeg as to the progress of the strike there.

CHINAMAN IS FINED $100

Charlie Kye Found Guilty of Supplying Liquor to Indians.

Charlie Kye of the Canada Cafe was fined $100 and costs or three months in default this morning by Indian Agent C. C. Perry for supplying an Indian woman by the name of Helen Kennedy of Port Essington on May 24 with liquor that tested 3.4 per cent.

The accused was brought before Mr. Perry on May 24 and the case adjourned until this morning for the purpose of enabling Mr. Cross of the Customs Department to test the liquor. Reading his report, it was readily seen that the accused had broken two laws, that of supplying liquor to Indians after being warned by Constable Watkinson and selling liquor that contained more than 2 1/4 per cent alcohol.

The Indian Department have made it their business to post at all canneries on the Skeena and Naas rivers, notices warning persons against selling liquor of any kind whatever to Indians, also all cafes and public places have been warned.

LOYAL TO PRINCE RUPERT AND TO EACH OTHER, SAYS JUDGE YOUNG IN ADDRESS

MEMBERS OF BOARD OF TRADE AT INITIAL LUNCHEON ADVISED TO ELIMINATE POLITICS AND WORK TOGETHER AS UNIT

"Every eligible man should join the Board of Trade without being asked.

"We are on the ground first and it is our work to build the city.

"Sitting down, dreaming and waiting is no good.

"We are cursed with politics. Politics is drawn in and mixed with things which are not political. Injecting politics into everything is like throwing the monkey wrench into the engine.

"Be loyal to Prince Rupert and to each other and pull together. Let it be Prince Rupert first, last and all the time and then we shall marvel at the advancement we make." — Judge Young at Board of Trade Luncheon.

A great and inspiring address was given by Judge Young yesterday afternoon at the first of a series of luncheons which are to be held on board the S. S. Prince Rupert. It was replete with anecdote and humorous allusions and was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. At the conclusion the speaker was loudly applauded and heartily thanked.

The Judge mentioned in opening that he was not allowed to talk politics and that he was not permitted even to vote because of his position. He wondered if it was because people thought judges less competent to choose a parliamentary representative than anyone else. While agreeing that it was proper judges should not express themselves verbally he thought they should be allowed to give expression to their opinions by their votes.

Discussing as an outsider the question of how a board of trade should be run, His Honor said that those on the outside were always better able to run a business than those on the inside.

All Should Gain.

One of the first principles he suggested was that every eligible man in the community should join the board of trade without being asked, and should pay his dues regularly and attend the meetings and work hard. The board should be a hive of industry in which no drones were allowed to exist. There was no law to compel this except that of the court of public opinion. No man could afford to live to himself without paying the penalty.

Other essentials to the success of the Board were unity of spirit and energetic action. The Judge said that he had grown old in places that were about to become cities. The cities had to be built and we being on the ground first it became our duty to do it. The next generation would have the enjoyment of living in it, riding round the mountain and up the Skeena River. When speaking of the work of his father the young man would say: "He did it all right."

"We have a hard road to travel," continued the speaker. "We must do the work ourselves. Sitting down dreaming and waiting is no good. People look to this Board, to the business elements, the brains of the place who are in possession of the information necessary to progress.

Unity of Action.

"Of course there will be differences of opinion. By expression (Continued on Page Three).
