"BROADWAY BILL" GETS EMPRESS A FULL HOUSE

Thrilling Tale of the Woods and Lumber Camps Proves A Winner.

There was a full house at the Empress Theatre last evening when Harold Lockwood appeared in "Broadway Bill," one of the most realistic of motion pictures seen here. Some of the scenes of the lumber camp in winter are masterpieces of photography. The play itself is a most interesting story of the city dweller thrown upon his own resources in a lumber camp in Maine. How he makes out is well worth seeing. This play is followed by a travesty on the Kaiser, called "The Geeser of Berlin" and a splendid comedy making a program which should fill the Empress tonight again.

Final reconsideration of the market bylaw was moved last evening by Alderman Barrie. The bylaw was passed and the corporate seal affixed.

INDIANS CLAIM FOR LOSS OF FISHERIES

Say Cannot Secure Fish for Their Domestic Purposes at Shawatlans Any More.

A letter from the Indian agent was read to the City Council last evening in which it was stated that he was instructed to bring the claims of the Metlakatla Indians before the council in respect to the loss which they have suffered through not being able to get any salmon at Shawatlans owing to the lowering of the lake.

In times past the Metlakatla Indians had been in the habit of securing their domestic supply of salmon at Shawatlans, but of recent years they had not been able to get this, owing to the fish not being in the creek. This, it was claimed, was owing to the lowering of the lake level for civic purposes.

A copy of a letter from Stewart Norrie, fisheries overseer, was enclosed in which it was stated that he thought there would not be sufficient fish there in any case, owing to natural causes.

There was some discussion as to the habits of salmon, and their changes of location. The mayor stated that this matter had been up before some five years ago, and he would have all the information on file brought before the council later.

CAN'T SELL ARMY BEEF TO HOME MERCHANTS

Washington, June 14.—The War Department has been unable to find a satisfactory market in this country for the large amount of canned meats it has on hand, C. W. A. Hare, director of sales, told the House Military Affairs Committee.

Dumping the large amount of meat owned by the War Department on the market would not only mean a big loss to the army but it would be disastrous for many business interests, Hare said.

"It would undoubtedly drive the small grocers out of business," he said.

"The amount of meat held by the government is now about 141,000,000 pounds, valued at $60,000,000."

"All our efforts to dispose of the meat in this country brought bids offering about 50 per cent. of the cost to the government, and we have been of the opinion that this is too large a sacrifice," Hare said.

Foreign demand, however, has already bid for about 70 per cent. of the total supply at prices slightly under the government cost. Roumania is willing to take nearly the entire supply and offers treasury notes in payment.

The present means of access to the plant here is very inconvenient and now that the work has started up a better means of communication is found to be necessary.
