PRESENTATION TO F. R. HUNT LAST NIGHT

Supper in His Honor and Praise of Gold Presented by Fellow Employees.

One of those pleasant little events that make life worth while took place last night on board the steamer Prince Rupert when a purse of gold was presented to Fred R. Hunt by his friends and fellow employees on the Grand Trunk Railway and steamships on the occasion of his leaving the employ of the company after more than twenty years' service.

A supper in the steamer dining room preceded the presentation, at which a large number of the employees of the company partook. W. P. Hinton, vice-president and general manager of the railway, presided and made the presentation and with him was Captain Nicholson, manager of the steamship company, and all the other heads of departments.

Mr. Hinton spoke of the valuable friendships that were formed in a pioneer community and of the fine feeling of loyalty to each other and to the company that had characterized the employees here. Mr. Hunt had come to Prince Rupert only about a year ago from Vancouver and the strides he had made in their regard and honor was well shown by the large gathering there that night, assembled to do him honor on his severing his connection with the company. They were delighted to give him a little expression of their regard. He hoped that their associations in future would be no less cordial. Mr. Hinton quoted some lines which had been written by one whom he characterized as "the foremost bard of the staff," J. D. McAuley, which were printed on the souvenir card which went with the purse which he handed to Mr. Hunt.

Grasp his hand in friendship, Sincere, twice tried and true, That smiles in the hour of triumph And laughs at the joys with you Yet stands in the night of sorrow Close by when the shadows fall, And never turns the picture Of an old friend to the wall.

ENID BENNETT AT WESTHOLME TONIGHT

Story of the Girl Who "Dolled up" Is Redolent of Strikes and German Plots.

The story of a German strike in one of the big cities of the United States at one of the big mines, is told tonight at the Westholme with Enid Bennett as star. She is billed as "The plain girl who captured her heart's desire by 'dolling up.'"

Enid Bennett is so well known that it is almost needless to say anything about her. The play is here for one night only and those who want to see it must go tonight.

Charlie Chaplin in "By the Sea" is the comedy and it is a good one. This is not absolutely new but it is one of his best.

was never any question of hours or of salary. He was glad to take this occasion to give expression to what he felt because he did it with the utmost sincerity. In his new calling their friend would still be in touch with them. They wished him God speed and good luck in his new position.

R. Beaumont said he was glad to add his meed of praise to those who had preceded him. He had known Mr. Hunt for a number of years and was extremely sorry to see him leave. The redeeming feature of the change was that he was not leaving Prince Rupert.

J. D. McAuley also made a brief speech.

In reply Mr. Hunt thanked them all heartily for their expressions of regard and for the fine present they had made him.

After the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" the gathering broke up.

The tramp steamer Chilliwack owned by the Union Steamship, arrived yesterday morning with a cargo of salt for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., Ltd.
