Colliery Company Sinks Shaft into Property on Fraser Lake by Railway

FORT FRASER, June 6.—The Fraser Lake Collieries, Ltd., is sinking a shaft on the shore of Fraser Lake about five miles from here, in spite of the fact that the company has as yet no title to the land. A new seam has just been struck of better coal than has ever yet been found, but its thickness is not as yet proved. It is a bituminous coal.

The officials of the company say that Premier Oliver, at the time of the election, promised that they should have the reserve lifted on the property and on the strength of this they went ahead and started development work. Now they are without title, for the Government has so far refused to cancel the reserve. They have so far spent about $5,000 in development work.

There are a number of outcroppings of coal along the lake shore close to the railway, but they are more or less broken in character. A mile from the lake there is another important outcrop, all of fairly good quality coal. As the company works the mine and gets farther below the surface they expect the quality of the coal to improve.

The Company.

The company was incorporated in January last with G. H. Moglen, president; John Frew, secretary; H. H. Olson, P. Hagen, T. T. Hamilton, John Frew and C. J. Kettyle, directors and M. G. Kettyle, manager. They have filed on three claims and a fraction, have put up the necessary fees and are prepared to go ahead with the work if they can get title. In the meantime they are proceeding slowly with the sinking of a shaft in the belief that they will be protected by the Government.

Fraser Lake is 360 miles from Prince Rupert, about half the distance of the mines on the Alberta coal spur. This would mean that coal could be delivered at Prince Rupert for domestic purposes or for shipping at a much lower price than the Alberta coal. It has to the advantage of being on the main line.

Its Significance.

If the property is developed and proves to have coal in pay-quantities, it will mean much to Fort Fraser, to Prince Rupert and to all intermediate points and also will be greatly to the advantage of the G.T.N. Railway which will have the carrying of the product.

APRIL REPORT OF FIRE CHIEF GOES BACK TO COMMITTEE

The report from the Fire Chief for the month of April was received by the city council last night but, as it involves the purchase of uniforms and no recommendation in that matter was made, it was decided to turn it back to the Fire Committee for its further consideration.

During the month of April there were 10 calls to the fire department. Outside of a fire on a gas boat, the extent of the damage of which was not known, there had been no loss from fire during the month. The expenses of the department had been $1,240.01.

The Fire Chief recommended that seven uniforms for the department be purchased.

Unaffected by Time

More and more are people appreciating the fact that diamond is one of the very things that escape the ravages of time.

Custom is wise, therefore, in decreeing the diamond as betrothal symbol. Fifty years hence it will be just as beautiful as on the day it was purchased.

Birks' Diamonds are invariably priced because of buying power.
