Terms Strike Settlement Announced

VICEROY'S REPRESENTATIVE AT DUBLIN GIVES WARNING TO MEMBERS

British Parliament Grants Ten Million Pounds for Subsidy

LONDON, June 29.—The House of Commons has sanctioned a wage subsidy of £10,000,000 in order to settle the coal miners' strike. The subsidy will be effective in three months' time and will be subject to three months' termination notice thereafter. Miners' wages will be reduced two shillings in July, half a crown in August and three shillings in September. The owners will forego profits in the next three months and will thereafter take seventeen pounds for every hundred paid as the standard of wages. It is thus asserted that the wages to be paid the miners will be twenty per cent above the 1914 standard. The clarity with which parliament acceded to the request of Premier Lloyd George to make the £10,000,000 grant clearly reflects its anxiety to have the strike ended and the mines in operation again as soon as possible. The miners will go back to work on Monday but many days will be required to repair the damage done during the period of inactivity before actual mining will commence in the most of the mines.

RENEWAL OF PACT IS NOW BEING HELD

Great Britain Asks Japan to Postpone to Allow Further Discussion and Consultation.

LONDON, June 29.—It is understood that Britain has requested Japan to postpone the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance from July to October to permit further discussion here and also to allow for consultation with the United States. Japan has agreed to this. The present treaty between Great Britain and Japan lapses on July 1. Refer to Dominions.

LONDON, June 29.—Premier Meighen's speech occupied the most of the morning session at the Imperial Conference today. It is understood that a proposal has been made that the question of the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty be postponed for several months to enable the overseas premiers to return home and consult with their colleagues and, if necessary, call a referendum of the people to uphold or reject the proposals settled at the Imperial Conference.

VICTORIA SETS OUT ITS PLANS

Proposes Two Alternative Schemes for Settling Relations Cities and Province.

VICTORIA, June 29.—The provincial government will be asked by the City of Victoria to hand over to the municipalities of British Columbia the income tax, the personal property tax, half of all the proceeds from liquor permits, the amusement tax, half of the motor taxes and a number of the license fees. As an alternative proposition the Victoria council suggest that the provincial government take over the hospitals and schools of the province. Much data is being prepared by the city for the fall session of the legislature when these matters are to be especially taken up.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE COMING The Masonic Grand Lodge will meet in Prince Rupert next year. On that occasion about four hundred leading Masons of the province will visit the city and will be suitably entertained by the two local lodges, Tsimsean and Tyee. The meeting here was secured by the local delegation which visited the south, the most of whom returned today.

FISH CAMPAIGN GREAT BRITAIN

Canadian Trade Commissioner Says People There Think Salmon Only for Summer.

OTTAWA, June 29.—Reports from the Canadian trade commissioner at Liverpool state that the trade in Canadian frozen salmon is being hampered by the fact that the British people regard salmon as a strictly summer fish. An advertising campaign is recommended in order to popularize the Canadian frozen fish in Great Britain to such a standard that it will be demanded all the year round. The best fish for selling overseas is that which weighs from seven to fourteen pounds.

TOMMY CHURCH MAY RUN FOR UNIONISTS

TORONTO, June 29.—That Mayor T. L. Church is ambitious to become the Meighen government candidate in West York for the coming by-election is the rumor in political circles today. Three others are named as being in the running for the government nomination: Ex-Mayor J. L. Anderson, who was formerly a Liberal, but became a Unionist when the Borden Government went to the country on the conscription issue; Leonard Wallace, warden of York county, and Alderman Sam Ryding. Mayor Church is at present on his way to Jersey City to attend the Carpentier-Dempsey fight. St. Regis Taxi. Phone 456.

BUSINESS IS NOT VERY GOOD

Report from Vancouver and Victoria is Anything But Encouraging.

H. F. Pullen, who returned to Cay from Victoria and Vancouver, reports that business conditions in the south are very quiet. Merchants all complain and look for little improvement until next spring. There is, however, little outward evidence of depression. Most of the people drive expensive cars and live well. There are no vacant stores in Vancouver or Victoria and the lumber mills seem to be operating. Prices of goods and wages tend to be depressed, thus decreasing the cost of living.

Cheap Strawberries. In Victoria on Saturday, Gordon head strawberries were being sold in the shops at three pence for 2oz and all lines of farm and garden produce are away down in price.

In places where there has been little reduction in wages there is a general speeding up and production is increasing.

The printers' strike at Vancouver continues but the shops are being operated independent of the unions, although not with full staffs. The master printers say the strike was a blessing to them as the business had fallen off considerably and there was little to do.

Want Information. Great interest is taken everywhere in Prince Rupert among all classes of the community and all want information in regard to the city and interior district. The impression is general that Prince Rupert is today the most prosperous town in the west and probably in all Canada.

FUNERAL OF LATE OFFICER

Full Military Ceremony This Afternoon When Late Lieut. W. O. McDonald Buried.

Possibly never in the history of Prince Rupert has a more solemn and impressive sight been witnessed than the full military funeral that took place this afternoon, when the body of the late Lieut. Wilfred C. McDonald was laid away in its last resting place in the cemetery at Fairview.

There was a large and most representative assemblage of Prince Rupert's citizens taking part in the ceremony.

The casket was removed from the B.C. Undertaking parlors at 11 o'clock this morning and taken to the Catholic Church. At 2 o'clock the military parade under Sergeant R. W. Cameron, marched from the headquarters of the Great War Veterans to the church. The firing party, consisting of six members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, under the command of Captain A. E. Acland, took up its position, three on each side of the church door.

Military Honors. After the brief service in the church, the coffin was carried out to the gun carriage by the six pall bearers, comrades of the deceased in the 16th Canadian Scottish, Majors G. E. Gibson and S. D. Johnston, Captain Forbes Sutherland, Sergeant James Eville, Corporal J. Dennis Allen and Pte. H. E. Wearmouth. As the party emerged from the church, Sergeant Cameron immediately called the parade to attention, the firing party standing at attention, with arms reversed and heads bowed. Upon the placing of the remains upon the gun carriage the firing squad took up its position at the head of the procession which then left the church for the cemetery in the following order: Firing squad composed of members of the R.C.M. Police under Capt. A. E. Acland; Pipe Band; G. W. V. A. Brass Band; Buglers; Gun carriage with casket containing the body of the deceased officer; car carrying the floral tributes; car with the family of the deceased and surviving members of the late lieutenant's battalion; representatives of the Navy and Flying corps, under Lieutenant G. P. Tinker; members of the Great War Veterans Association; members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks; citizens on foot, and lastly, the cars of the mourners.

At Graveside. The service at the graveside was most impressive, the large gathering standing reverently and silently, the men with heads bared, as the few short, beautiful words of the church service were pronounced by Bishop E. M. Bunoz before all that was mortal of the deceased officer was consigned to the grave.

The firing of three rounds by the firing squad and the sounding of the last post by Bugler W. Rance brought the ceremony to a close. Floral Tributes. Among the large number of floral tributes sent in memory of the deceased were wreaths, crosses and sprays from the Great War Veterans' Association, Neville, Macdonald & Rorvik Co., Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Battalion, Dominion Government Fisheries Department, Mr.

INDIAN FROM ALERT BAY ON MURDER CHARGE

Tom Williams Alleged to Have Committed Murder in September, 1914.

VANCOUVER, June 29.—Tom Williams, an Alert Bay Indian, was brought here yesterday, in custody of the provincial police, charged with the murder of Ernest Jack Young, a fisherman and hand logger of Carter Bay, Dickson Island, on September 2, 1914.

Young's body was first found in 1916 by two loggers. It was then in a hollow log covered with an Indian mat. The discoverers left without taking the body and later, on account of the district having been swept by a forest fire, failed to identify the location. This spring the charred bones were again found by Sergeant Anzemann, a mounted policeman. The man had been shot through the head. Williams was committed for trial by the magistrate at Alert Bay.

Parliament Opening South Ireland Was a Dismal Failure

DUBLIN, June 29.—The opening of the Southern Parliament of Ireland occupied but ten minutes time this morning. Lord Chief Justice Maloney, representing the vice-roy, postponed the reading of the King's speech until a representative assembly materializes. He issued the warning that the continuance of the South Ireland parliament could not be assured unless at least half of the members of the house took the oath of office. Only eight senators and two or three commoners assembled today, they representing the Imperialists and the Protestant communities. The Sinn Fein members ignored the opening. Parliament has been adjourned until July 13.
